RIOTERS ARE RAMPANT IN THE CANADIAN SOO

Discharged Employees of Consolidated Lake Superior Company Run Wild.

THEY ATTACK BUILDING AND DESTROY PROPERTY

Smashed Everything That Came in Their Way—Soldiers Arrive on Scene, but Are Powerless. Bloody Times Are Expected.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., September 28.—Tonight the situation in the Canadian Soo, which has been the scene of serious rioting by the discharged employees of the Consolidated Lake Superior Company all day, is very grave. No reinforcements of militia have arrived from the outside and the only defense against the mob, which hourly increases, is a more or less demoralized police department, and a small company of militiamen.

An assault upon the office building by the mob early this afternoon, before the arrival on the ground of the troops, was successful and a mass of frenzied rioters secured possession of the ground floor of the building, destroying everything movable that came in their path. A crowd of the office staff, with drawn revolvers, prevented their gaining access to the upper floors of the building. Every window and door in the building is smashed in.

Troops Arrive on Scene.
The arrival of the troops on the grounds, armed with ball cartridges, about 2 o'clock served to restore some semblance of order. The rioters then contented themselves with throwing stones at the building and hurling invectives at the soldiers, who established a "dead line" and prevented any approach toward the building by any of the rioters.

The greatest number of the mob are ignorant Italians, Finns, Norwegians and Frenchmen, the latter perhaps the hardest of all to handle. All have been drinking more or less, although the bars this afternoon finally obeyed the order to close up.

The mob is one that cannot be reasoned with and the men they seem most anxious to get at is Mr. Coyne, the assistant manager, who, in the absence of Mr. Shields, is in charge of the works. Mr. Coyne has discretely kept out of sight all day.

Feeding the Rioters.
Late this afternoon the leaders of the mob held a conference and demanded that the company house the men in their hotel and board and feed them until the money for their wages is forthcoming.

In order to appease the crowd this demand was granted and the men have taken possession of the White house, a large boarding house operated by the company. Provisions are being sent there to feed them and the men propose to hold a monster mass meeting at this place tonight. As the leaders are making the most inflammable sort of speeches grave fears are entertained for the outcome after this meeting adjourns.

It is estimated that there are 2,000 men in the Soo tonight, and these are reinforced by all the idle rabble in town. A train carrying 400 more workmen is expected to arrive on the Algoma Central tonight. The local police force is being strengthened by the addition of all the deputies who can be found, each man being given a badge and a revolver and ordered to use the latter whenever necessary.

Considerable feeling has been aroused over the shooting of two Frenchmen by the police during the trouble this morning. The rioters claim that the officers used their revolvers when it was unnecessary. Neither of the men is fatally hurt, however.

The mob threatens an attack upon police headquarters with a view of effecting the release of all the men who have been arrested. Both this building and that occupied by the fire department is guarded against attack.

Smashed All the Windows.
Detroit, Mich., September 28.—A special from Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., says that a mob of the discharged employees of the Consolidated Lake Superior Company, after being put off with promises when they demanded their promised wages, this morning broke away from all the restraint a large force of special police could exert, and smashed every window in the magnificent office building of the company in the Canadian Soo, charged upon the street cars and demanded that the conductors and motormen join them, and were only prevented from doing further damage by a clever ruse of one of the company's officials, who turned in a fire alarm to divert attention. Almost every man in the crowd was armed, and in the ugliest kind of a mood. A determined assault was made upon one of the entrances of the building, but the door was defended strenuously by those inside, who fired a large number of shots, none of which, however, took any effect. The hardware store of W. H. Plummer & Co. was broken into last, and every gun and revolver in stock was stolen, together with all the ammunition that could be found.

The authorities have called out the local company of militia and have telegraphed an urgent request to Toronto for both the regulars and more militia. The local militia company is small and totally incapable of coping with the situation.

A meeting of the employees of the company was held in Barnes hall this morning and its proceedings were of the most heated character. The particular grievance which seems to have inflamed the men to acts of disorder was the promises to pay today, when the men who made the promises, the employees believe, knew they could not be fulfilled.

Hurl Rocks at Building.
Immediately after this meeting adjourned the men went in a body to the office of the company, determined to get their money or "get satisfaction," as they put it. The doors of the office were locked and guarded by police and all the men got was a bulletin posted upon the door, which stated that the company was unable to pay today, but that the wages would be paid ultimately.

This notice, instead of allaying the excitement of the crowd, which by this time was estimated to number 1,500, made them furious, and despite the efforts of the combined strength of the local police force and the company's militia police force, rocks and other missiles soon filled the air, directed at the windows of the office building, inside of which could be seen the officials of the company. Efforts to secure admittance to the building by members of the mob were fruitless, although a determined attempt was made. Some one then turned in an alarm of fire, with a view of using the fire hose upon the mob. The firemen turned several streams on the crowd and drove it quite a distance from the building. This reduced the size of the mob to proportions where they could be handled by the police, and the rioters were then driven off the premises.

The attack on the street cars followed, and in order to avoid a clash all the cars on the Canadian side were ordered to the bars.

SALEN'S WARM REPLY TO DICK

Paramount Issue in Campaign Is Record of Senator Hanna.

Cleveland, Ohio, September 28.—Charles P. Salen, chairman of the Ohio democratic state executive committee, has made a reply to Chairman Dick, in which Salen says:

"The paramount issue of the senatorial contest in this campaign is the public record of Senator M. A. Hanna and his unfitness by reason thereof to be returned to the United States senate. Are you not aware that Hon. John H. Clarke has attacked his public record and joined issue with the present senator upon his record—first, in fathoming the ship subsidy bill, which seeks to take from the people's treasury ten million dollars annually and put it into the treasury of the steamship companies; second, in forcing through the legislature the reactionary and expensive municipal code, which denies home rule to the cities of the state; and third, in using his official position to secure for himself and associates franchise privileges to the injury of the people—can you get this information by inquiring of Senator Hanna himself?"

"He is on record as saying that his public record has been outrageously attacked and that when he goes upon the platform he will have something to say about it. I have asked you to arrange that Mr. Clarke may be present when he says it. You decline for reasons that would be readily guessed, if you did not assert that candor compels you to give the real reason for declining a joint discussion."

"Again on behalf of Hon. John H. Clarke, I ask you to arrange for a joint discussion between him and Senator Hanna on the political issues of the campaign."

THREATEN TO BLOW UP JAIL.
Gang That Bows Up Railroad Bridges Want Man Released.

Helena, Mont., September 28.—In addition to the threats which have been made against the Northern Pacific railroad by a gang of dynamiters, who demand $50,000, Chief of Police Travis has received notification from what is believed to be the same gang, that unless two men arrested in conjunction with the first outrage at Livingston are released, the city jail will be blown up. Detectives are searching the country trying to locate the gang, and the ton of dynamite stolen from a warehouse in this city a week ago. The last ultimatum to the railroad expires October 4, and the one to Chief Travis ends tonight. The railroad tracks are being carefully guarded against further outrages.

DISCUSSED THE MILLER CASE.
Washington Central Labor Union's Attitude Towards President.

Washington, September 28.—The attitude of the Central Labor Union toward President Roosevelt came up for discussion at the meeting of that body tonight in connection with the case of W. A. Miller, assistant foreman in the bindery of the government printing office, in which the union has taken an active interest. After the meeting it was said that the union was not waging a political campaign against the president, but that its members thought they had the right to petition and to request other labor organizations to petition the president to rescind his action in the Miller case.

Death of a Samaritan Chief.
Apia, Samoa, August 29, via San Francisco, September 28.—The late chief of Apia, Semanuta, died August 24. He held the office for thirty years. One of the notable events of his life was the assistance he rendered in saving lives of the American naval forces here during the disastrous hurricane of 1889, when a number of warships were wrecked.

pany was held in Barnes hall this morning and its proceedings were of the most heated character. The particular grievance which seems to have inflamed the men to acts of disorder was the promises to pay today, when the men who made the promises, the employees believe, knew they could not be fulfilled.

BEFORE COURT JIM TILLMAN DENIES CHARGE

Former Lieutenant Governor of South Carolina Arraigned for Murder of N. G. Gonzales.

HEARING TESTIMONY BEGUN; GONZALES' CLOTHES SHOWN

Largest Array of Legal Talent in the History of South Carolina—Effort Made to Read State Editorial in Court Is Blocked.

Lexington, S. C., September 28.—James H. Tillman, former lieutenant governor of South Carolina, was placed on trial here today in the circuit court for Lexington county, under an indictment charging him with the murder of N. G. Gonzales, editor of The Columbia State, Judge Frank B. Gary presiding.

It was 11 o'clock when the solicitor for the state, J. W. Thurmond, announced that the state was ready to proceed with the trial of the case, and by the time the midday recess was taken at 1:30 p. m. the defendant had been arraigned, a jury drawn and charged, and all was in readiness for the introduction of testimony.

There was every indication earlier that a jury could not be secured today. The court room was well filled, but not crowded.

Probably never in the history of this judicial circuit has there been so great an array of counsel engaged in the trial of a case in the circuit, or perhaps in the entire state, as in the trial of the former lieutenant governor. The solicitor is assisted by five attorneys, while the defendant has eleven lawyers, with G. W. Croft, a representative in congress from Aiken, as chief counsel, conducting the defense.

Mrs. J. H. Tillman and the mother of the defendant were present at the opening of the court, and remained throughout the day's session, occupying seats within the railing.

A vigorously contested legal battle is in prospect. In fact, it was manifested at the very outset of the trial that every inch of the ground is to be contested. Nevertheless the case proceeded rapidly today.

Prisoner Pleads Not Guilty.
Immediately upon reconvening at 3 p. m., the examination of witnesses was begun, and when court adjourned six witnesses had testified. Beginning tomorrow, the court will sit early and late, and the trial will be pushed to a conclusion at the earliest date.

The defense having announced its readiness to go to trial, the defendant, who was in an anti-room, where he had been in consultation with his attorneys prior to the calling of his case, was brought into court and directed to stand in the dock when he was arraigned in accordance with the law and custom of this court.

He was calm, when asked to plead, replied in a clear and firm voice: "Not guilty."

The indictment charges the carrying of concealed weapons, as well as the more serious violation of law. Mr. Tillman took a seat close to his attorneys, where he listened intently to the proceedings.

When the court directed the empaneling of a jury, a 6-year-old boy drew from a hat in which had been placed the names of those composing the panel, a slip of paper bearing a juror who was called and accepted.

It was not until 1 p. m. that a second was secured, and there was every indication that a jury could not be secured today, but in the next fifteen minutes the jury was completed. The jury will not be permitted to separate until a verdict is rendered. The state objected to five of the panel and the defense to ten.

First Witness on Stand.
G. E. Boland, a member of the Columbia police force, was the first witness called by the state. He said he took Tillman to the police station in Columbia from the scene of the shooting on January 18, describing where Tillman was standing in the street with reference to Gonzales. He testified that Tillman said to him:

"I received Gonzales' message."

The witness said he asked Tillman: "Did you shoot Gonzales?" To which he said Tillman replied that he did. He said the defendant carried a pistol in his hand and that another was found in his pocket when the station was reached. Tillman, he said, wanted to keep the pistol until the station was reached for his protection, but witness insisted on taking it. He said Tillman was walking diagonally across the street when he first saw him and looking toward Gonzales.

The two pistols were exhibited to the witness for the purpose of identification. One was an automatic pistol, the one which witness said Tillman held in his hand.

On cross-examination he said Tillman submitted quietly to accompanying him to the station.

SENSATION IS SPRUNG IN THE TILLMAN CASE

Two Affidavits, Contradictory in Nature, from the Same Witness—Defense and Prosecution Each Has One.

Lexington, S. C., September 28.—(Special)—It was thought by the start in the Tillman case that the defense intended asking for a continuance. Every one in the court room was of such opinion. Tonight I secured some of the details as to why the case went to trial contrary to expectation.

It seems that at a conference of the lawyers the prosecution asked the defense to admit the affidavit of O. D. Black, because on account of injuries received in the Hamburg wreck he would be unable to appear in court. The defense agreed to admit Black's affidavit, in the possession of the prosecution, provided the prosecution would admit an affidavit that Black had subsequently made for the defense.

To the prosecution this came in the nature of a bombshell. They asked to see a copy of the defense's affidavit. Black had given two and they are in a large measure contradictory.

Black's First Affidavit.
This one was used by the prosecution in the bail hearing February 19, 1903:

State of South Carolina, County of Richland.—Personally appeared O. D. Black, who, being sworn, says: I am a flagman between Columbia, S. C., and Jacksonville, Fla. I was formerly on run between Columbia and Augusta. At the time Hon. James H. Tillman was coming to Columbia to count the ballots, about three weeks before the shooting of N. G. Gonzales, I was flagman between Columbia and Augusta and heard the said James H. Tillman say in the smoking car that he was going to whip or kill said N. G. Gonzales. Along in November I was at the Albion hotel in Augusta with said J. H. Tillman and then I saw a blue steel mauling pistol which said J. H. Tillman intended to kill N. G. Gonzales with. I said, "Don't kill him; whip him." Tillman replied, "By God, I am going to kill him." Said Tillman pulled the pistol referred to out of his hip pocket. (Signed) O. D. BLACK.

Sworn to before me this day of February, 1903.

WILLIAM ELLIOTT, JR., N. P. S. C.

Black's Second Affidavit.
The following is the one sprung by the defense yesterday in the conference. It did not come into open court:

State of South Carolina, County of Richland.—Personally before me appeared O. D. Black, who, being duly sworn, says that the statement he made, or that appeared over his signature, was written by a Mr. Elliott, who said he would force him to so testify unless he signed the statement; that he hurriedly read the statement and did not know how it sounded until he read the same in the newspapers; that this is a true statement of the conversation he had with J. H. Tillman.

Tillman showed him the pistol he had just bought as a curiosity. In the course of the conversation Tillman mentioned the fact of the personal difficulty between him and N. G. Gonzales. Some time has passed and I can't remember just what Tillman said. He may have said that if Gonzales forced him to do it he would be obliged to kill him. The impression made on me was that Tillman did not wish to provoke the difficulty, but would only act if forced to do so. I can't say positively just the words he used, as some time has passed. He did say, however, that he felt like whipping Gonzales for attacking him so unjustly in the newspapers. I don't think, however, he made a direct threat and I did not know I was making such a statement until I saw same in the newspapers. The paper, as I said, was written by a Mr. Elliott and I did not know how it would sound and it was not a true statement of the conversation I had with Tillman.

(Signed) O. S. BLACK.
Sworn to before me this 21st day of February, 1903.

GEORGE R. REMBERT, N. P. R. C.

identified the pistols as those turned over to him.

J. E. Walker, clerk of Richland county, was asked to demonstrate to the jury the working of the automatic pistol.

An overcoat and a suit of clothes were exhibited which were identified by J. A. Hoyt, Jr., and L. G. Wood, Jr., members of the editorial staff of The State, as garments worn by Mr. Gonzales.

The attention of the jury was drawn to the bullet holes in the coat and overcoat. The cross-examination of witnesses by the defense was brief.

It is estimated that there are about two hundred witnesses to be heard.

Effort To Read Editorial.
Shortly after court met, and the usual preliminaries had been gone through with, Mr. Graham, of the local bar, holding a copy of The State (newspaper) in his hand, said that the bar desired him to call to the attention of the court an editorial, entitled "Juggling with the Courts."

Solicitor Thurmond interrupted and said that as the Tillman trial would likely be entered upon today, he thought it improper that such matters should be injected into the case. He said counsel and the court were not responsible for newspaper articles and they were foreign to the case.

Judge Gary said that was true generally, but if Mr. Graham wanted to make a statement for the bar of Lexington it would be proper.

Mr. Ashbill, a member of the local bar and assistant attorney for the prosecution, said that it was not the unanimous desire of the bar that any statement be made. Judge Gary said that if it was a statement made it would be improper for it to be made, and he ruled that Mr. Graham could make no statement.

Mr. Sharpe contended that a majority of the bar wanted the statement made, but Judge Gary held that it must be unanimous. Solicitor Thurmond then announced that the only criminal case pending was that against James H. Tillman, but he asked the indulgence of the court until he could receive some answers from telegrams sent in reference to the attendance of witnesses.

He had special reference, he said, to O. D. Black, who is a witness for the prosecution, but who was in a railroad wreck at Hamburg last week and who is now in an Augusta hospital. Court took a recess until 10:30 o'clock.

Files of The State Ready.
When the solicitor announced that the state was ready to proceed he supplemented his statement by saying he would not be ready to begin testimony until 3 o'clock.

After a brief consultation between attorneys on either side, Colonel Croft asked if Ambrose E. Gonzales was in court. The reply being in the affirmative, he asked whether Mr. Gonzales had obeyed the order to bring files of The State (newspaper) from April 15, 1902, to September 30, 1902.

Being informed that the files were available for use as testimony in the trial, Colonel Croft announced that the defense was ready to go to trial.

The jury secured, the members retired to select a foreman. George H. Koon was chosen. The indictment was read to the jury and Tillman was again placed in the dock.

Two special deputies were sworn in to take charge of the jury. Mr. Nelson, of the defendant's counsel, asked that the jurors be not allowed to read editorials or other articles in The State newspaper. He said he did not want to deprive them of literature, but he did think they should

"The train consisted of two postal cars, one express car and one baggage car for the storage of mails. The trestle is very little damaged, as the train jumped the track about 40 feet north of the trestle on the sound track. In good line and surface, and proper gauge. The trestle was in first-class condition, and was so well braced that the engine and train falling on the outside of the curve knocked down the outside posts and left the others standing. TRYING TO STAMP OUT YELLOW JACK

Physicians at Laredo, Texas,
Perfect an Organization.

Dr. Gutierrez Urges Necessity of Fighting the Mosquito as the Only Means of Ridding
City of Fever—All Cases
Have Been Isolated.

Laredo, Tex., September 28.—There have been no deaths from yellow fever in this city, but five new cases have been announced by the "experts" who are in charge of the situation.

A light rain fell about three hours this morning, increasing the unfavorableness of the situation.

Orders have been issued to the railroad company here prohibiting the sale of tickets to any point north. This step was taken because the authorities intend to establish a detention camp at Sanchez Station, 5 miles from here, where all passengers who wish to depart for points in the north will be compelled to spend ten days under surveillance. The detention, however, does not apply to through passengers from points beyond the yellow fever district in Mexico, the only thing exacted from such passengers being a certificate from a United States consul in Mexico showing they have not been in an infected region within ten days.

Dr. Gutierrez and Tabor have perfected the organization of their forces to carry on the work of placing the city in a sanitary condition by sending out four gangs in charge of competent physicians, whose duty it is to supervise the disinfection of all houses within the neighborhood where yellow fever patients have died and where cases now exist. Federal and state officers are working in harmony, but there is a difference of opinion as to whether or not the disease is contagious. Dr. Gutierrez, in an interview, urged the necessity of fighting the mosquito as the only means of stamping out the disease. He said this theory of stamping out the disease was accepted by the international medical congress held at Havana in 1901, and although there are many men who do not accept this theory, he is thoroughly convinced of its correctness. He said if the city had been thoroughly drained before the introduction of yellow fever from Mexico there would have been no spread of the disease here.

Dr. Tabor said he believed the fever could be transmitted by infection, and that while the mosquito undoubtedly communicated the disease, he thought it could be acquired by infection as well. As there are many things not absolutely settled to the minds of all men of science, he said it would be well for the inhabitants of the city to take every precaution, both against infection from contact with the disease and by being bitten by the mosquito.

All Cases Isolated.
Every case of fever has been isolated and the dogs and the windows of the houses covered with mosquito netting to prevent a further spread of the disease from the patients under treatment.

"Little information of a reliable nature can be learned from Mexico, Laredo, but it is reported tonight that several cases developed here today. It is also reported that several of the patients are not protected from the mosquitoes, some of the medical gentlemen there not believing in the transmission of the disease by this means."

A number of people left town today for Sattillo and other high points in Mexico, the only outlet now left open. It is hoped and believed by the physicians that the disease will be stamped out before it spreads much further.

Reports from Linares say the yellow fever situation is little improved. Twenty-two deaths have occurred during the past three days. The agents of the superior board of health are doing all they can to control the disease. Patients are isolated as much as possible as soon as they are found and a large force of men is being kept busy working to improve the sanitary conditions of the city.

In the towns north of Linares, the disease has not been reported. The military authorities claim the city is free from fever. They say the only case which has appeared was that of Dr. Alderman, who died yesterday. They say if the fever should make its appearance they are prepared to quickly stamp it out.

CHARGE FRAUD TO HITCHCOCK

Secretary of the Interior Is Subject of Sensational Petition.

Both He and the Dawes Commission Are Accused of Unlawful Acts in Claim for Damages Against Government by Delaware Indians.

Washington, September 28.—Justice Anderson, of the supreme court of the District of Columbia, rendered an opinion today in the injunction proceedings of the Delaware Indians against Secretary Hitchcock and the Dawes Indian commission, dissolving the temporary injunction, therefore granted. The case involved the right of the secretary to pass on the 157,000 acres of land in the Cherokee nation segregated for the use of the Delaware.

Soon after the decision was rendered, Attorney Walter S. Logan filed a petition in the court of claims on behalf of the Delaware against the secretary of the interior, asking that damages be awarded in the sum of $4,000,000 because of the expense to which the Indians have been subjected in defending title to their lands. In this petition they make some sensational statements.

One of the accusations is to the effect that members of the Dawes commission are interested in oil leases and companies holding leases made upon their lands by Cherokee claiming title.

Mentioning the members of the commission by name, the petition alleges that notwithstanding the lands have been properly segregated, the Dawes commission, disregarding their official duties as agents of the United States towards your petitioners, have conspired and confederated, and are conspiring and confederating together, and together with the said companies, to cheat and defraud your petitioners so as to gain possession of their lands for themselves, or for their said companies, under the pretense of allotting said lands, in their official capacity as said Dawes commission, to divers persons, who are willing to enter into contracts of leases and sale with representatives of said trust and said companies, in which the members of said Dawes commission are interested.

The secretary of the interior is charged with unlawful acts to defraud the Indians, such as that of encouraging white men who have married squaw wives to make claim to Delaware lands.

WAS IN CHICAGO WHEN VILLAGE

Jefferson Tells a Chicago Audience of City's Early Days.

Chicago, September 28.—At the close of the performance of "Rip Van Winkle" at Powers theater tonight, Joseph Jefferson, responding to a curtain call, delivered a reminiscence address, in which he said:

"I acted in this city sixty-four years ago. My father was one of the first strangers in Chicago, and with a small company of actors, myself among that number (being a boy ten years of age), we landed in front of the then mere village of Chicago, which numbered about four thousand inhabitants. We acted for the season and I need not tell you that when I return here year after year I feel like a veritable Rip Van Winkle indeed."

Mr. Jefferson told how, in the old days, when prejudice against actors was great, the town council of Springfield, Ill., had placed a prohibitory license on theatrical performances and his father's company, stranded in the town, would have been unable to give a performance had not a young lawyer volunteered to arrange matters with the city fathers. That young lawyer was Abraham Lincoln.

SENDS GUARD WITH CHILDREN

Governor Mickey Fears Kidnapers Will Seize Little Ones.

Lincoln, Neb. September 28.—The guard around the governor's mansion has been increased, as it is feared another attempt will be made to steal Governor Mickey's children. The four smaller children are not permitted to leave the house unless they are accompanied by an older member of the family. The penitentiary is being searched for traces of the plot that is supposed to have been formed for the purpose of getting revenge on the governor.

The police have a description of the ex-convict who made the attempt and are searching for him.

BLOODLESS WAR ON AN ENEMY SWING

First Day of the Army Maneuvers in Kentucky.

Browns Repulse Blues, Who Receive Reinforcements and Soon the Browns Are in Full Retreat—Work of the Cavalry.

West Point, Ky., September 28.—The troops were astir early, first call being sounded at 4:30 o'clock this morning. At roll call the line officers made a rigid inspection of each man's cartridge belt to make sure that no ball cartridges had crept in among the blank ones already issued. Then the commanders, having received their instructions and breakfast having been eaten, 2,400 of the regular soldiers divided into bodies. Equal strength went swinging out across the country in the crisp, invigorating air to begin their maneuvers.

After a time in maneuvering among the hills, the first of the mimic battles ended with an apparent advantage in favor of the "brown" army. The conditions prevailing were of advance and rear guard by the brown army. The problem for the day, as announced by Colonel Wagner, chief umpire, was as follows: The blue army, having been defeated by the brown army, fell back on Louisville, the base point. Here it secured heavy reinforcements and turned on the brown army, which began to retreat toward its base at Nashville. The advance guard of the blue army was expected to cripple the rear guard of the brown.

The actual clashes were not numerous, being largely confined to the brushes between flankers. Colonel Morton had swiftly disposed of his brown cavalrymen at a point where he was to threaten the blue column, commanded by Colonel W. T. Duggan, and at the same time practically forbade an attack by the blue main column commanded by Major Williams, unless the latter took a longer detour than the time limit allowed. The rear guard was not only able to forestall the enemy's attack, but to do it with trivial loss—a cardinal principle for the rear guard being not to engage at the superior force unless absolutely essential to the safety of the main body. The brown horsemen took advantage of the ground so well that they were able to threaten either of the blue columns with a superior force and yet maintain a superior defense at mid-point. The maneuver ended late in the afternoon with trivial losses in "killed" and captured on either side.

The chief incident of the day was the capture of Captain Mitchell, of the signal corps, and a detachment of his men by a troop of the Seventh cavalry.

THE CASE HAS BEEN SETTLED.

Talbot J. Taylor & Co. Reach Agreement with Southern Pacific.

New York, September 28.—Edward Lauterbach, counsel for Talbot J. Taylor & Co., confirms the report that the suit brought by the latter firm against the Southern Pacific road had been settled. Mr. Lauterbach says that the appeal in the case has been discontinued and that an order to that effect will be filed in the federal court at Cincinnati this week. The suit was brought by Talbot J. Taylor & Co. to restrain the stocks of the Southern Pacific held by the Union Pacific Railway company from being voted at the coming meeting of the Southern Pacific company, on the ground that street exercise of control by a parallel and competing line was contrary to law.

The case was decided against Taylor & Co. in the lower court, but was appealed, and by consent was taken directly to the highest court. The argument was to have been made on October 1.

ARE EVIDENCES OF MURDER.

Dead Body of Man Found on New York Bulkheads.

New York, September 28.—With the discovery of the body of a boy 14 years old on the bulkheads at Katherine street and East river today the police are confronted with evidence of a crime that recalls the deeds of "Jack the Ripper."

Marks on the boy's body showed that he had been cruelly maltreated and both the police and coroner are satisfied that he was murdered. There are evidences that a woman was connected with the crime. The body was discovered under a piece of canvas, over which were three heavy pieces of rope. The impression that the boy had been sleeping under the canvas and the timbers had fallen on him.

Investigation showed that the timbers had been placed on the body after death. Scores of persons saw the body today, but no one could identify it.

Rome, September 28.—According to The Tribune, Plux X, on receiving the abbot of the Celestine monastery, of Monte Cassini, in the Campanian, said:

"We shall soon meet, most reverend father, at Monte Cassini." Then, remarking the effect these words produced, an impression that his holiness would some day leave the vatican precincts, he added:

"Pray, for all things are obtained by prayer."

The pope is also said to have told the abbot of the Benedictine monastery at clava del Tirreno, near Salerno, that he himself would open the jubilee of the Immaculate Conception.

AMERICAN CRUISER DID GOOD

How It Stopped the Massacre of the Christians.

Beirut, Syria, Tuesday, September 8.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—As this dispatch is mailed the situation at Beirut remains unchanged, there being a great feeling of relief among the Christians.

The correspondent of the Associated Press called on board the United States cruiser Brooklyn and San Francisco yesterday and found them armed camps. On Sunday morning a church was attacked in the same neighborhood while service was in progress, but no one was killed.

Panic-stricken, the Christians fled from the city or remained in their homes behind barricaded doors, while Muslims armed with clubs, revolvers and knives paraded the streets and fell on any chance victim that came their way.

The arrival of the American cruiser in the midst of these troubles brought great relief, especially to the foreign residents of the city.

On Saturday night and on the Sunday following there was an uprising against the Christians in different parts of the city. Thirty persons were massacred in one quarter and a reign of terror was inaugurated throughout the whole city.

DO NOT ACCEPT INDORSEMENT

Jerome's Advice to Fusionists with Tammany Support.

New York, September 28.—District Attorney Jerome gave expression tonight to his views on the propriety of candidates on the fusion municipal ticket accepting nominations from the Tammany organization, the report having been published that Comptroller Grout and President Farnes, of the board of aldermen, have said they could see no reason why they should not accept such nominations, if made.

"No one knowing Tammany Hall," said Mr. Jerome, "can for one moment imagine that, as an organization, it is willing to indorse a fusion candidate because of its admiration for the services which he has rendered for decent things in the city of New York, and any man fit to stand at this time on a reform ticket, who can coquette with a Tammany indorsement, writes himself down as a political knave, and if the indorsement is not tendered in good faith, but simply to draw political fire, by his indorsement, he writes himself down a political ass as well."

Mr. Jerome says that if Grout and Farnes accept Tammany indorsement they should be repudiated by the Citizens' Union and the republican organization. The executive committee of the Kings county democracy tonight passed the following resolution on the report of the committee of five, named for the purpose of conferring with committees of the other boroughs:

"Resolved, That the action taken by the said committee of five be and, the same in all respects ratified and approved, and the said committee be directed to adhere to its position."

The "position" referred to is in the defiance of Tammany on the question of nominating George B. McClellan for mayor.

BIG FIRE OCCURS IN CHICAGO.

Factory of Standard Varnish Company Damaged to Extent of $350,000.

Chicago, September 28.—The factory of the Standard Varnish Company at Twenty-sixth street and Armour avenue, was nearly consumed by fire today, entailing a loss estimated at $350,000. The blaze was started by the explosion of a tank of varnish which threw barrels of varnish through the roof.

Members of two fire companies narrowly escaped death or injury from the falling of floors and several firemen were painfully hurt. The flames shot 50 feet above the structure and the oil and varnish, released by nineteen distinct explosions, turned the street into a sea of fire.

Thirty-five employees of the company performed a fire drill and escaped from the building in safety and saved the contents of the books and papers.

ROUGH HOUSE AT BROOKLYN

New York, September 28.—After one of the most riotous scenes ever enacted in a political meeting in Brooklyn, the republican county slate was by former Lieutenant Governor Timothy L. Woodruff was smashed tonight and Henry Belden Ketchum was nominated for district attorney of Kings county in place of George F. Elliott, who was Mr. Woodruff's candidate.

While the convention was in progress and fighting had begun in the hall, Mr. Ketchum attempted to withdraw his name and had his clothing literally torn from his body by his partisans, who attempted to drag him from the room to prevent his withdrawal. In the street Mr. Ketchum fainted.

The noise of the riot drew the police to the hall and they charged down the street, clubbing right and left, forcing the delegates into their seats and separating those who were fighting.

Mr. Woodruff was drawn into the personal encounters and was roughly handled. Several men were badly bruised and cut.

At a conference held earlier in the evening Mr. Elliott had been agreed upon for district attorney. This conference was between the republicans and the fusionists. The row started soon after the convention assembled.

CLOUDS ARE LIFTING

Situation at Bulgaria Seemed To Be Much Brighter Yesterday.

Apprehension of the Government Is Materially Lessened by Assurance That Battalion Will Not Be Moved from Adrianople.

Sofia, Bulgaria, September 28.—The situation here is much brighter today and the war clouds appear to have lifted. The porte's assurance that the thirty-two battalions recently ordered to proceed from Monastir to Adrianople will not be moved had lessened the apprehensions of the Bulgarian government. Further satisfaction is derived from the fact that M. Natchovitch is going to Constantinople in the capacity of Bulgarian diplomatic agent. He conducted the negotiations with the porte last June and after their failure returned to Sofia.

The committee appointed for the purpose at the time of yesterday's demonstration of 15,000 Macedonians in this city, this afternoon waited on Premier Petroff and asked him if the government intended to do anything to help the Macedonians. M. Petroff replied that the ministry was acting in what it conceived to be the best interests of Bulgaria and would continue the same policy.

The president of the committee told the premier that his reply would not be satisfactory to the people, and the committee thereupon withdrew.

At Makroton only a hundred Bulgarian families remain out of 1,500. A body of 200 families fleeing toward Bulgaria from villages in the Losengrad district were surrounded by Turkish troops in the Uzunbadjak mountains and all of them are alleged to have been slaughtered in a terribly destitute condition. They entered.

He is a son of the Hon. Milton A. Candier. He is an elder in the Presbyterian church, a nephew of Bishop Candier and of Associate Justice John S. Cannon. He is now a candidate for president of the house from DeKalb four times and has made a fine record as representative.

FINISHED BRIDGE DESPITE COURTS

Gang of Men Complete Work Over Injunction.

Putnam and Baldwin Counties Now
Joined by Bridge Over Little River—Building of Bridge
Was Fought by Ferry Owners.

Milledgeville, Ga., September 28.—(Special.)—The bridge over Little river between Baldwin and Putnam counties has been built and a party crossed on it late this evening despite opposition and the orders of the courts.

For weeks the interest of this city has been centered on the building of this bridge across the river at a point known as Gage's Ford.

Two grand juries recommended the building of this bridge. Milledgeville merchants have been anxious for it and a large number of people in that section of Putnam have desired it for years, as Milledgeville is their natural market.

But the condition of the river often makes it impossible to cross and Milledgeville can only then be reached by going many miles out of the way.

The county commissioners tried to build the bridge some weeks ago, but the Humber heirs, who own a ferry some 2 miles above this point, filed a bill of injunction and the commissioners were prevented from completing the work by order of Judge Lewis, who sustained the point that as the bridge was not being erected on one of the public roads of the county, the commissioners could not build it until the road was first made a public road.

The citizens of Milledgeville were not to be disappointed, so the board of trade took the matter up and put the building of the bridge, or its completion, in the hands of two private citizens.

Men Who Did Work Unknown.

A squad of hands was again put to work when the bridge was in a day of completion the parties in charge were again enjoined by the Humber heirs. Judge Lewis setting the hearing at Monticello next Thursday.

The last bill of injunction was against P. J. Cline, chairman of the board of trade; J. C. Whitaker, Ed Barnes and the county commissioners.

These gentlemen had agreed to purchase the timber that had been cut by the county commissioners and proceed with the bridge, but when they were enjoined they abandoned the work.

Now news reaches this city tonight that forty men have been at work on that bridge since daylight and that it was completed this evening.

No one seems to know who was in charge, but all are delighted that it is completed.

REV. DR. REESE UNDECIDED TO GIVE VERDICT

Macon Rector Called to Leading Episcopal Church in Nashville—Has Not Determined Just What Course He Will Take in Matter.

By E. C. Bruffey.

Constitution Bureau, 467 Second Street, Macon, Ga., September 28.—(Special.)—Rev. Dr. Reese, rector of Christ Episcopal church, who has received a flattering call from one of the leading Episcopal churches in Nashville, is back from that city, where he was pleasantly entertained by the parishioners who are seeking his services as a rector.

Upon his return to the city Dr. Reese was given a warm and loyal greeting by his old friends here, who had begun to grow apprehensive that they might lose the rector, for whom they had grown so fond, for few pulpits orators and church workers in the Central City are held in higher esteem than Dr. Reese.

Since he came to Macon Dr. Reese has been one of the most zealous yet at the same time unostentatious workers in the cause of his Master, and today the roll of his congregation demonstrates that fact. A deep thinker, a good logician and a finished scholar, he has captivated one of the most refined church assemblies in the south, in addition to obtaining a popularity throughout the city.

Not alone would the members of his parish miss Dr. Reese were he to accept the call, for his acquaintanceship and friends are not confined to that parish.

The church in Nashville to which Rector Reese has been invited is one of the oldest in that old city, and at it worship members whose fathers and grandfathers once walked through church pews.

When asked whether or not he would go to Nashville, Dr. Reese said:

"That is a question I cannot yet answer. In fact, I have not given it that consideration one would give a proposition looking to such an important move. The truth is, I have not yet determined what I shall do."

Dr. Reese is not disposed to discuss the question, especially for publication, and while he is kind and courteous in all his replies and patient in hearing questions propounded, it is apparent he does not like to discuss the call and the pending change made possible thereby.

But it can be said, the information coming from persons with whom Dr. Reese has probably discussed the situation, that the offer made is a most tempting one, and that the Nashville congregation is even willing to increase the financial end of it, the very end, however, that does not appeal to Dr. Reese as strongly as some other features concurrent with the change, if a change should be made.

It will probably be some weeks before Dr. Reese announces his determination.

Wreck Victim Known in Macon.

Macon, Ga., September 28.—(Special.)—Mail Clerk J. L. Thompson, of Washington, who was killed in that death-dealing wreck near Danville Sunday afternoon, has relatives living on the Columbus road near the city limits, and had been here on a visit within the past year.

C. H. Jordan, to whose family Thompson was related, was advised of the terrible accident by wire Sunday night, the telegram coming from relatives in Washington after the information had reached Thompson's family.

The death of the young man, who stood alone and for that reason any action of that character may be considered as wholly eliminated from the possibilities of tomorrow night.

Almost perfectly sure is the statement that Aldermen Hays, Masson, Jones and Massenberg will stick to Judge Freeman from the first ballot to the last if it takes a year to fight it out. These gentlemen will oppose even a censure of the recorder and there are many on the outside who agree with them, basing their judgment upon the evidence brought out during the investigation. Equally certain is the declaration that Aldermen Williams, Chestney and Wilder will vote for, if they do not advocate a censure.

This leaves Aldermen McKenna, Dammour, Sloan and Redmond to augment the four who will stand by Judge Freeman or to increase the three who will oppose him.

Marvin Booth Again Free.

Macon, Ga., September 28.—(Special.)—Marvin Booth, the Macon drummer who, while out under bond for cashing a queer check at Dublin, was arrested Saturday at Jeffersonville, left today for that place, where his father resides.

Booth was arrested the second time upon complaint of Adams & Johnson, for whom he worked and who, after his arrest for the check affair, was in the investigation of his accounts. It was found that he was short and he came here Saturday night with the sheriff of Twiggs and his brother, Colonel Booth, of Statesboro.

Booth turned over to the Macon firm property which will more than cover any shortage which has already been discovered or which may yet be found. After this transaction the firm refused to prosecute the young man.

After the conversion of the property into cash all surplus will be turned over to Booth.

Negro Charged with Murder.

Macon, Ga., September 28.—(Special.)—Charged with having committed one of the foulest murders ever committed in Georgia, John Worthly, a negro about twenty-six years of age, is an inmate of the Bibb county jail awaiting the arrival of his victim's father from south Georgia.

About two years ago Jake DuBois, a noted negro desperado, waylaid an old coffee county farmer who was driving along the road with his son. The negro killed the son at the first shot and then wounded the old man. The old man fell from the wagon and by feigning death was not further molested by the negro. DuBois then killed the mule which the old man had been driving and after robbing his victims of everything they had made his escape. A large reward has been standing for DuBois' capture, but notwithstanding this fact and the long search made by officials all over the state, he has managed to evade them.

Deputy sheriff Riley yesterday received word that a negro answering the description of the murderer was living in seclusion near Echoesconne with an old deaf-mute negro man. Investigation was made and a man giving his name as John Worthly under arrest. Several cars were found upon his body and these, together with other marks, convince the deputy that he has at last succeeded in capturing the badly wanted criminal.

Sheriff Southern, of Coffee, arrived and, after looking the prisoner over carefully, was inclined to believe he was the man wanted. To make sure, however, word was sent to the old man in Coffee county, and he will arrive tomorrow to identify the man as DuBois.

Judge Hamilton Talks.

Rome, Ga., September 28.—(Special.)—Judge Harper Hamilton took the oath of office this afternoon as judge of the city court. He succeeded Judge John H. Reese. Judge Hamilton's term of office begins on October 6.

TO GIVE VERDICT IN TWO REPORTS

So Say Rumors Concerning Freeman Investigation.

Believed That Positions of Different
Aldermen Are Known—Eight
Said To Favor Freeman.
He May Make Stronger
Showing.

By E. C. Bruffey.

Constitution Bureau, 467 Second Street, Macon, Ga., September 28.—(Special.)—The last chapter in the Pearce-Freeman investigation will be written in the council chamber tomorrow night, the members of the board of aldermen being the collaborators.

When at the last session of the board the evidence was finished and the argument by the attorneys was completed the disposition of the matter was up to the members of the board and by motion the final action was postponed until Tuesday night, the 29th, some members of the board expressing a desire to go over the evidence after the stenographer transcribed his notes.

Since the adjournment that night it is known that members of the board have discussed the matter with each other and that some of them, if not each one of them, has reached a conclusion within his own mind. But none of the aldermen will talk of the outcome for publication and so far as known the discussion has been confined to the members themselves.

One of them appearing to want any advice on the outside. Still there has been some surmising as to the result and to those conversant with matters pertaining to aldermen in Macon that surmising is of various kinds.

In one quarter it is openly asserted that Judge Freeman will not come off scott free, while from the opposite corner comes the declaration that there is not the slightest possibility of an impeachment or a verdict of guilty without a qualifying clause.

Another story has it, and this one is generally accepted by those who are discussing the situation, that when a vote is taken the strength will be eight to four. The minority vote there will be for a censure, so the lines run, while the majority will be against it. It reads, too, that there may be only three for censure and that nine will oppose it.

Only One for Removal.

It has been asserted that upon a motion to find Judge Freeman guilty, the punishment being laid down in the motion to fix his punishment, there will be a censure, so the lines run, while the majority will be against it. It reads, too, that there may be only three for censure and that nine will oppose it.

That single voter in his canvass of the members has been a surprise. He would stand alone and for that reason any action of that character may be considered as wholly eliminated from the possibilities of tomorrow night.

Almost perfectly sure is the statement that Aldermen Hays, Masson, Jones and Massenberg will stick to Judge Freeman from the first ballot to the last if it takes a year to fight it out. These gentlemen will oppose even a censure of the recorder and there are many on the outside who agree with them, basing their judgment upon the evidence brought out during the investigation. Equally certain is the declaration that Aldermen Williams, Chestney and Wilder will vote for, if they do not advocate a censure.

This leaves Aldermen McKenna, Dammour, Sloan and Redmond to augment the four who will stand by Judge Freeman or to increase the three who will oppose him.

Marvin Booth Again Free.

Macon, Ga., September 28.—(Special.)—Marvin Booth, the Macon drummer who, while out under bond for cashing a queer check at Dublin, was arrested Saturday at Jeffersonville, left today for that place, where his father resides.

Booth was arrested the second time upon complaint of Adams & Johnson, for whom he worked and who, after his arrest for the check affair, was in the investigation of his accounts. It was found that he was short and he came here Saturday night with the sheriff of Twiggs and his brother, Colonel Booth, of Statesboro.

Booth turned over to the Macon firm property which will more than cover any shortage which has already been discovered or which may yet be found. After this transaction the firm refused to prosecute the young man.

After the conversion of the property into cash all surplus will be turned over to Booth.

Negro Charged with Murder.

Macon, Ga., September 28.—(Special.)—Charged with having committed one of the foulest murders ever committed in Georgia, John Worthly, a negro about twenty-six years of age, is an inmate of the Bibb county jail awaiting the arrival of his victim's father from south Georgia.

About two years ago Jake DuBois, a noted negro desperado, waylaid an old coffee county farmer who was driving along the road with his son. The negro killed the son at the first shot and then wounded the old man. The old man fell from the wagon and by feigning death was not further molested by the negro. DuBois then killed the mule which the old man had been driving and after robbing his victims of everything they had made his escape. A large reward has been standing for DuBois' capture, but notwithstanding this fact and the long search made by officials all over the state, he has managed to evade them.

Deputy sheriff Riley yesterday received word that a negro answering the description of the murderer was living in seclusion near Echoesconne with an old deaf-mute negro man. Investigation was made and a man giving his name as John Worthly under arrest. Several cars were found upon his body and these, together with other marks, convince the deputy that he has at last succeeded in capturing the badly wanted criminal.

Sheriff Southern, of Coffee, arrived and, after looking the prisoner over carefully, was inclined to believe he was the man wanted. To make sure, however, word was sent to the old man in Coffee county, and he will arrive tomorrow to identify the man as DuBois.

Judge Hamilton Talks.

Rome, Ga., September 28.—(Special.)—Judge Harper Hamilton took the oath of office this afternoon as judge of the city court. He succeeded Judge John H. Reese. Judge Hamilton's term of office begins on October 6.

Dr. Miles' Nervine. That Cured Me.

"For eighteen years I suffered from nervousness and indigestion. I tried every remedy recommended by family and friends but I could get no relief at all. Two years ago, while being treated by local physicians, they informed me that I had become despondent and that there was little hope for me. I then decided to try Dr. Miles' Nervine. I was unable to get to sleep after having eaten an evening meal, and I was light during all this time. I had deep, heavy pains under my left shoulder, and a very severe pain in my left side. I was most miserable and I was unable to do any work. I took one-half bottle of the Nervine and I could sleep all night just as well as I ever did. The Nervine is the only remedy that gave me any relief whatever. I had not been taking the Nervine but a short time when I discovered that I could go out on the gallery and sit down on an evening and enjoy myself with the rest of the family, something I had not done in many years. I am now well and strong, eat and sleep well, and thank God every day of my life for Dr. Miles' Nervine."

—MRS. JULIA A. BROWN, Covington, Tenn.

Dr. Miles' Nervine is a great blood and heart tonic, formulated by a specialist of nerve and heart diseases, whose experience covers more than a quarter of a century. There is nothing to go so safe, so economical as Dr. Miles' Nervine.

G. R. Slappey's family grocery and soda stand was also burned; loss $1,800, partially covered by insurance. The insurance was mostly in the Aetna and Liverpool, London and Globe, represented by W. H. Rice.

NO WEEVIL IN NORTH STATE

State Entomologist Franklin Sherman Denies Reports Sent Out.

Raleigh, N. C., September 28.—(Special.)—From time to time reports are circulated that the Mexican cotton boll weevil has appeared in North Carolina. A report was printed in a paper in Union county that the weevil had appeared in that county and in Mecklenburg.

Franklin Sherman, the state entomologist, says no such report has come to him direct and that no specimens suspected to be this pest have been sent to the agricultural department. He does not believe that this insect is in North Carolina and will be greatly obliged if persons living in the suspected localities will send him specimens. In order that the matter may be settled, if the weevil is in the state the truth should be known at once, but the circulation of unfounded rumors will do much harm. Professor Sherman says:

"Doubtless it is some other insect that has damaged the cotton in Union and Mecklenburg. There is every indication that the Mexican boll weevil will eventually spread throughout the cotton belt, but I do not believe that it will appear in North Carolina for several years yet to come."

"Last year it was stated in one of the government crop reports that the boll weevil had done damage in the vicinity of Gibson, this state, but by corresponding with the person who originated the report from Gibson I found that it was entirely incorrect."

"I suspect the same is true in this instance."

LOUISVILLE HAS ITS HORSE SHOW

Twenty-Six States and Canada Sent Horses to Exhibit.

Louisville, Ky., September 28.—The international exhibition of horses, under the auspices of the Louisville Horse Show Association, opened tonight for a week's session. It was the most brilliant event the local social world has known in years, the one hundred boxes encircling the amphitheater being filled with handsomely gowned society women and their guests from many sections of the country. The south's representation on the social side of the show was especially striking, including as it did visitors from nearly every city south of the Ohio river.

The exhibition of horses was an extravagant scale, nearly 800 animals being the entry list for the season. Although the Louisville Horse Show Association more than doubled last year's tabling facilities, many horses were sent to quarters near the main building and local exhibitors were requested to keep their animals at home until the hour for showing, as there was no space in the building.

Twenty-six states and Canada sent horses, among the exhibitors being:

E. E. Smathers, New York; E. T. Stotesbury, Philadelphia; Dr. John L. Wentz, Scranton, Pa.; Colonel Gustave Pabst, Milwaukee; Dr. R. R. Rust, Denver, Colo.; John R. Gentry, St. Louis; W. G. Carling, St. Paul, Minn.; George Pepper, Toronto, Canada, and Hugh Wilson, London, Ontario.

Tonight's programme consisted of six champion events, the prize money being a class being $1,000. The winners in these events, according to the new ruling of the local association, will be permitted to participate in any other contests during the exhibition.

Bartlett Eulogizes Blount.

Hon. Charles Bartlett, member of congress, spoke of his predecessor in the office of the national house of representatives and his tribute was not confined to the public work of the late Judge Blount. His career as a congressman, as a representative of the national government, Blount's American citizenship was more fully handed by the congressman than were his traits as a member of the Macon bar, his characteristics as a citizen, a friend and an associate.

Judge Nottingham spoke of Judge Blount, too, and his words were full of praise for the many deeds of the distinguished Georgian.

M. Felton Hatcher paid a tribute to Mr. Harris, who was considered one of the rising young members of the Macon bar when death cut short his career.

Colonel Marmaduke Bayne presented Judge Reid and in words of praise spoke of the great worth of the gentleman to the profession and of his even and lovable character.

Colonel Claude Estes eulogized Mr. Small and illustrated his many noble traits of character. Colonel Estes also spoke of Judge Blount, Judge Reid and of Mr. Harris.

Hon. Minter Wimberly gave attention to each of the departed members of the bar and his eulogies upon each were deep and pathetic.

Many other members of the bar spoke of the deceased attorneys, among the speakers being Colonel R. V. Hardeman, Colonel Cochran and Judge Proudfoot.

J. M. Mallory Returns.

Macon, Ga., September 28.—(Special.)—J. M. Mallory, traveling passenger agent of the Central railroad, with headquarters in Macon, is back from Andersonville, where he has been working up material for a booklet on the national cemetery for that road.

Carter and Ruhlman Fight.

Philadelphia, September 28.—"Kid" Carter and "Gus" Ruhlman fought a hard six-round draw bout tonight at the Washington Sporting Club. Carter was the aggressor in five of the six rounds, but Ruhlman evened matters up by giving the count, and in the fourth round Carter was sent to the floor and took the count, and in the sixth round Carter struck Ruhlman a stinging blow, which left the latter under the light eye. Ruhlman weighed 164½ pounds and Carter 171½.

INUNCTION CASE COMES UP TODAY

Macon Anti-Expansionists Must Make Showing.

Hearing Was Set for Yesterday, but
Was Delayed on Account of Memorial Services Held by Members of the Macon Bar.

By E. C. Bruffey.

Constitution Bureau, 467 Second Street, Macon, Ga., September 28.—(Special.)—The injunction proceedings against annexation, booked for argument before Judge Felton this morning, did not transpire.

But tomorrow morning the case will be called before the same judge and unless some unforeseen event happens the lawyers will have to get busy, the one side with his petition, the other with his answer.

The postponement today was agreeable to all parties and was brought about by the memorial services of the Macon Bar Association having been designated for the day.

Hon. Minter Wimberly, city attorney, who will be assisted by Hon. Washington Dessau, one of the strongest advocates of annexation during the pendency of the bill and one of the hard workers for its passage, is ready for the case.

Both Mr. Wimberly and Colonel Dessau have given the case a thorough study and both are fully equipped for the task they have in hand. The attorneys for the movants are showing no signs of apprehensions and the indications are that the battle will be one of the hardest fought Bibb county has known in some time.

Judge Felton, it is anticipated, will not require any great length of time to announce his opinion.

So it may be that the end, so far as the Bibb courts are concerned, will be known here by the middle of the present week.

Bar Honors Deceased Members.

Memorial services in honor of four members of the Macon Bar Association who have passed away within the past year were held this morning in the city court room and for impressiveness and sincerity surpassed any previous session of the kind.

Within the year Hon. James H. Blount, ex-member of congress from this district; Hon. S. A. Reid, A. B. Small, Jr., and N. E. Harris, Jr., have passed away, each being followed to his last home by the full membership of the bar.

At a session of the association held some months ago committees were appointed by Hon. Washington Dessau, president of the Macon Bar Association, to prepare memorials touching each of the deceased attorneys, and when Judge Felton, in the absence of President Dessau, called the meeting to order the members of the committee were on hand ready with their papers, while every member of the association was in attendance.

The committee to which had been assigned the Blount memorial was composed of C. P. Sted, chairman; John L. Hall, C. L. Bartlett and M. W. Harris. President Dessau being added to that committee upon motion.

Judge Frank Chambers, chairman; M. W. Harris, Judge A. L. Miller, L. D. Moore and Alexander Hatcher composed the committee to whose care was assigned the eulogy touching Hon. S. A. Reid.

The memorial to N. E. Harris, Jr., was requested of a committee upon which were M. Felton Hatcher, chairman; Richard K. Hines, Judge W. C. Nottingham, A. W. Lane and J. E. Hall.

M. D. Jones, chairman; Douglas Feagan, J. E. Hall, Fred R. Martin and Pope, Jr., were given a record paper on the life and work of A. B. Small, Jr.

The memorial papers covered the life and events of prominence in the careers of the deceased lawyers and will form a portion of the archives of the county of Bibb when a student of the history of the Macon Bar Association began a research in years to come. They were all thorough and complete within themselves and were but a just tribute to the departed members of the association.

PE-RU-NA NECESSARY TO THE HOME.

A Letter From Congressman White, of North Carolina.

PERUNA is a great family medicine. The women praise it as well as the men.

It is just the thing for the many little catarrhal ailments of childhood.

Congressman George H. White, of Tarboro, N. C., writes the following letter to Dr. Hartman:

"I am more than satisfied with Peruna, and find it to be an excellent remedy for the grip and catarrh. I have used it in my family and they all join me in recommending it as an excellent remedy."

Very respectfully,
GEORGE H. WHITE.

Once used in the family Peruna always stays. It is an internal, scientific, systematic remedy for catarrh and all catarrhal diseases.

The following testimonials from thankful men and women tell in direct, sincere language what their success has been in the use of Peruna in their families:

Louis J. Scherrinsky, 103 Locust St., Atlantic, Iowa, writes:

"I will tell you briefly what Peruna had done for me. I took a severe cold which gave me a hard cough. All doctors' medicines failed to cure it. I took one bottle of Peruna and was well."

"Then my two children had colds accompanied by gagging. My wife had stomach trouble for years. She took Peruna and now she is well."

"I cannot express my thanks in words, but I recommend your remedy at every opportunity, for I can conscientiously say that there is no medicine like Peruna. Nearly every one in the town knows about the sickness of myself and family, and they have seen with astonishment what Peruna has done for us. Many followed our example, and the result was health. Thanking you heartily, I am, 'L. J. Scherrinsky."

Peruna protects the family against coughs, colds, catarrh, bronchitis, catarrh of the stomach, liver and kidneys. It is just as sure to cure a case of catarrh of the bowels as it is a case of catarrh of the head.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna,

HILLIER QUILTS POLITICAL LIFE

Announces That He Will Never Again Hold Office.

Such Was the Statement He Made Yesterday at the City Hall to the Members of the Special Committee on Tax and Others.

An announcement that will be of interest to those who are concerned in the political developments of Atlanta was made yesterday afternoon by Judge George Hillier during a brief talk to the members of the special tax committee, of which Councilman Amos is chairman.

JUDGE GEORGE HILLIER,
Who Announces That He Has Quit
Politics for Good.

The announcement of Judge Hillier was several times spoken of as a mayoralty possibility, and his name has sometimes been mentioned in connection with other offices that are periodically filled by the voters of this county and district. He is an ex-mayor of Atlanta, an ex-member of the board of water commissioners, upon which board he served for fifteen or more years, and he is at present the chairman of the charter revision committee, which wrote the new municipal charter that is now pending before the general assembly of Georgia.

It was during the session of the committee on yesterday afternoon that Judge Hillier publicly renounced political ambition. "I am guided by what I tell you," he declared after giving the members of the committee the benefit of ideas which evidently impressed them considerably, "by no desire to do anything else than my duty, and what I believe to be the best for my city."

"I am out of politics. I have no desire for any office that could be given me, either local, in the state government or national, and I would not accept it if it came. I have retired."

"Therefore I say that I am guided only by a desire to help you solve this trouble, some problem if I can, and do what I believe is for the best interests of our city."

The members of the committee were very much impressed by the remarks of Judge Hillier.

YOM KIPPUR HERETOMORROW

Hebrew Day of Atonement
Begins at Sunset—Services
at the Temples.

The Jews of Atlanta and of the entire world will on Thursday observe Yom Kippur, the Hebrew day of atonement. The observance begins at sunset tomorrow and continues until sunset Thursday. Appropriate services will be held in the Jewish temple in this city. The first service will be held tomorrow night at 8 o'clock and another one will be held Thursday morning at 10 o'clock. A memorial service will be held Thursday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. Dr. David Marx, the rabbi, will conduct each of the three services.

Yom Kippur is the day of national humiliation and is one of the most solemn and the most widely observed of all of the Jewish holy days. The occasion is observed among Hebrews in all sections of the world with fasting and prayer, the fast being strictly kept, food neither being prepared nor eaten.

Yom Kippur has a close connection with the observance of Rosh Hoshannah, the Jewish New Year, and is the tenth day after that occasion.

PANTHER AT WILMINGTON.

Presence of German Man of War Causes Brilliant Events.
Wilmington, N. C., September 28.—(Special.)—The German war ship Panther arrived in port today and received a royal reception. During the morning the port and military officers and city officials made formal calls and the officers returned the calls at the public building.

Later in the day hundreds of people visited the ship, and the greatest courtesies were exchanged.

Tonight a brilliant public reception was given at the Wilmington Light Infantry armory in honor of Captain Jantzen and his gallant officers.

Over five hundred people called during the evening and paid their respects.

BIG AUTO RACES FOR THE FAIR

Series of Thrilling Contests
Scheduled—Barney Oldfield May Race.

A series of thrilling and exciting automobile races, run with regular racing machines and participated in by some of the best known automobilists of the country, is to be put on during the first three days of the Southern Interstate fair and will no doubt prove one of its biggest and most attractive features.

Secretary Frank Weldon, of the fair association, who is engineering the big race proposition, announced last night that $10,000 in purses will be offered on each of the three days of racing. Two entries have already been received, and Secretary Weldon is now in correspondence with Barney Oldfield, of Cleveland, Ohio, who holds the American automobile record, and it may be that he will enter the contest. Oldfield races a Winston machine, and in this he made a mile in 56 seconds on a mile track. Oldfield informs Secretary Weldon that he is yet undecided whether he will come to Atlanta or go to Philadelphia.

The two entries are from Carl Fisher, of Indianapolis, and Tom Kiser, of Chicago. Fisher races a Mohawk, a machine of 100 horsepower. He was in communication by wire yesterday morning with Secretary Weldon and in the afternoon conversed with him over the telephone from Indianapolis in regard to the details of the races. He announced to the secretary that he is confident of lowering the mile record for a half mile track, which indicates that visitors to the fair will witness some great sport in the way of racing.

The track will have to be banked considerably on the curves for the automobile races and it will be made as fast as possible. It is understood that spectators will not be allowed to congregate close to the railings, but will have to confine themselves to the grand stand and the terraces.

War Pain: for Red Men.

The Red Men of the city are evincing much interest in Red Men's day, October 15, and they are anticipating a great occasion. The life night parade through the principal business streets of the city will be one of the most unique and spectacular ever witnessed in Atlanta. It is expected that 2,000 men will be in line, each adorned with Indian war paint and carrying red fire torches.

The Red Men will take in the fair during the day and will also return to the grounds at night after the disbandment of the parade. The Atlanta Red Men have received assurances that every lodge in the state will be represented by a delegation.

The Travelers' Protective Association will establish headquarters at the fair grounds on the opening of the show, which will be fitted up in artistic and attractive style. Visiting merchants will be invited to visit the headquarters, which will be in the Georgia building, and make themselves at home. A bureau of information will be one of the features of the place. R. N. Pickett, of post B, the local organization, selected the location of the headquarters yesterday afternoon.

Secretary Weldon received a telegram yesterday from John Carey, stating that he would leave Chicago last night for Atlanta with a car load of race horses. Carey is to be clerk of scales at the fair race course, which position he also held last year.

B. H. Treadwell left yesterday afternoon for Louisville, where he will attend the horse show in the interest of the Atlanta show. Other officials are expected to go to Louisville later in the week.

"Pike" To Be Gorgeous.

It is now a pronounced fact by all who gained admission into the big agricultural building before orders were issued to keep sightseers out, that the "Pike" will be by far the best midway ever seen in Atlanta. Just to go into the big structure and see the piles upon piles of beautiful scenery that is to be used gives one the impression of being upon the stupendous stage of the largest theater upon earth.

Upon the personal supervision of Robert P. Walker, scenic artist, decorator, sculptors, electricians and carpenters will quickly complete the extensive work necessary in erecting the different attractions.

Each man is assigned to a certain duty and he performs it with the regularity of clock work, and when the gates of the great fair are announced open their work will be finished and visitors to the "Pike" will marvel at the great beauty of the interior decorations.

BRIDGE WORKERS ARE ROWING.

President Buchanan Makes an Appeal for Harmony to Factions.

Kansas City, September 28.—Today's session of the International Structural and Bridge Workers' Association was taken up entirely with routine affairs. Parks' followers helped to clear up the small business of the gathering and no signs of the fight between the two factions promised yesterday were visible.

President Buchanan made an appeal for harmony and his talk had the effect, at least temporarily, of quieting the New Yorkers.

"It's the hull before the storm," said one delegate, after the convention had adjourned for the day.

The sum total of the day's work was the granting of a charter to the Architectural Iron Workers of Chicago, a labor body which has perhaps 6,000 members throughout the country, and a decision to send delegates to the building trades' alliance to be held at Indianapolis next month.

PITTSBURG TO PLAY BOSTON.

Two Pennant Winners To Play for World's Championship.

Pittsburgh, Pa., September 28.—The Pittsburgh baseball team, champions of the National League, left tonight for Boston, where they will on Thursday begin a series of nine games for the championship of the world with the Boston team, pennant winners of the American League.

The schedule as arranged for the post-season series follows:

At Boston, October 1, 2 and 3.

Pittsburgh, October 5, 6, 7 and 8.

The club winning five games will be given the championship, should it be found necessary to play more than the seven games scheduled, the other will be played at Boston or some other city mutually agreed upon.

Columbus Girl Joins Show.

Columbus, Ga., September 28.—(Special.)—Miss Floy Jones, a young lady of Columbus, has joined the Boston Ideal Opera Company, which played in this city all last week. She went off with the company yesterday to Spartanburg, S. C.

END LITIGATION IN COLLIER CASE

Ordinary Wilkinson Will Appoint
Administrators When Petitioned.

Judge Roan Signed Decree in This Famous Case Yesterday—Consent
Verdict Was Accepted
by Superior Court—One
Chance of Hitch.

Judge John R. Wilkinson, of the court of ordinary of Fulton county, will appoint administrators for the George Washington Collier estate when the case comes back to his court one day this week.

This was learned yesterday soon after it was announced in the superior court that Judge L. S. Roan had signed the order confirming the consent verdict. When this is done this famous will case will be finally settled.

The only chance for another hitch in the settlement of the case is for the heirs to name an administrator or administrators who may not meet with the approval of the ordinary's court, and that would only delay the final settlement of the case for a few days, as other administrators would be appointed.

Judge L. S. Roan signed the consent verdict yesterday morning at 11:20 o'clock. In speaking of the case afterwards Judge Roan said that the only point on which he was not absolutely certain was as to whether or not an executor had the right under the law to agree to break down the instrument which had made him an executor, and that he had been satisfied that he had this right after having cases cited to him. J. H. Nunnally was foreman of the jury and signed the consent verdict, which is as follows:

"We, the jury, find in favor of the caveators upon the amendment to the caveat filed September 23, 1903, and further find upon the ground of the said amendment that the instrument offered for probate is not the last will and testament of George W. Collier, deceased."

(Signed) September 28, 1903.
(Signed) J. H. NUNNALLY, Foreman.
The following is the decree signed by Judge Roan:

"Jurisdiction of the above case assumed because of the disqualification of Hon. J. H. Lumpkin, Judge of Atlanta circuit."

"It is ordered and adjudged that the verdict be and it is hereby made the decree of this court."

"It is further ordered and decreed that the instrument offered for probate is not the last will and testament of George W. Collier."

(Signed) September 28, 1903.
"L. S. ROAN,
J. S. C. S., Mt. Ct., Presiding."

The heirs to the estate have not yet agreed on the person or persons whom they will request the court to name as administrators.

WOULD LEASE THE HOSPITAL

Judge George Hillier Makes
Suggestion About Grady Hospital.

A suggestion to lease the Grady hospital and remove it from the control of the municipal authorities because of the expense of that institution was made yesterday by Judge George Hillier during a speech before the special committee of council, of which Councilman Amos is chairman, and which is dealing with the tax problem of Atlanta.

Judge Hillier was speaking of retrenchment and was urging that policy upon the members of the committee. He told the members that the body that it was important to decrease expenses if it was found that the city could not live within its income.

"Now, in the case of absolute monopolies," he declared, "monopolies that exist in the natural order of things, such, for instance, as the water works, and I need not go further than that; it is well for the city to own and control them; but it is not well for the city to own or operate such enterprises as stores or businesses of any kind where in the natural order of things, there is no monopoly. In the latter class are the hospitals. A hospital is not a monopoly."

"I think it would be better if the city should decide to lease the Grady hospital under contract and allow it to be operated by private parties. I saw a statement of the cost of it in the papers some time ago and I was amazed. The hospital has an annual appropriation of $33,000 and for the other departments of relief I believe you appropriated about $12,000. There is $45,000 for the department of relief."

"Now, I remember when I was mayor of Atlanta we sent our charity patients to a private hospital and paid 35 cents a day for each patient. In extremely dangerous cases we sent the patients to St. Joseph infirmary and paid $1 a day, because the accommodations at the infirmary were better. Now, if I remember correctly, the total cost of the department of relief at that time was about $6,000 a year, and there was never a complaint, never a single complaint, about the management of our charity patients in the least particular or about the management of our charity department."

"Well, at the present day the cost of the relief department is $46,000 a year, an increase from $6,000, and the increase in population and in the amount of taxes we receive has not been proportionate."

The members of the committee took no action upon the suggestion of Judge Hillier, but heard his remarks with evident interest.

Sergeant Fatally Shot.

Richmond, Va., September 28.—J. E. Eubank, town sergeant of Keyville, Va., was shot and probably fatally wounded this afternoon by Green McAdoo, a negro desperado. A posse of men attempted to arrest McAdoo for the alleged murder of his wife in Greensboro, N. C. Eubank and the negro fired simultaneously at each other. McAdoo was struck at all, as he continued to run and made good his escape. Eubank was killed at Keyville and of Cleveland, and was one of the most highly esteemed citizens of the place.

SHORT ITEMS OF LOCAL INTEREST

THE POLICE HAVE BEEN NOTIFIED that a lot of small boys have been amusing themselves by placing rocks on the street car tracks for the purpose of making the cars jolt or annoying the motorman. The chief says if any boys are caught doing such a trick he will punish them to the full extent of the law.

FIRE BROKE OUT ON THE THIRD floor of No. 8 1-2 North Broad street last night about 7 o'clock, and but for the quick work of the fire department there might have been a disastrous conflagration. The fire started in an empty room and what caused it is a mystery. When discovered three rooms were in a blaze and smoke was pouring through the windows and doors. As the lower floors of the building are occupied by commission merchants, the flames would have spread rapidly had they reached the hay and other inflammable material. The damage will not exceed a few hundred dollars.

THE NEGROES WHO MAKE DECATUR street their headquarters reckon time no longer by the clock or the sun, but keep tab on the hours by the opening and closing of the saloons. You will hear a negro say, when relating the time a certain occurrence happened, "It was about two hours after the saloons opened;" or "It was half an hour after the saloons closed."

FOR THE PURPOSE OF CONSIDERING the October apportionment sheet, council's finance committee, of which Alderman Inman is chairman, will meet this afternoon at 4 o'clock in the mayor's office at the city hall. Nearly all of the departments were increased, and there are a number of public improvements which are thought by councilmen to be sufficiently pressing to be provided for on the October sheet.

ED COLBERT, A SMALL NEGRO boy, stole $10 from a negro man last Saturday and proceeded to have a high old time. The first thing he did was to go to a drug stand and order three ice cream sodas all at once, which he ate with great gusto. Then he bought a dozen packs of cigarettes, ate a dozen bananas, devoured six apples and drank a bottle of Coca-Cola. All this occupied about two hours. When arrested he had spent most of the money. The recorder fined him $25.75. He was too young to bid over to the state courts.

S. YABER WAS FINED $7.75 BY THE recorder yesterday afternoon for knocking down Silas Henry, a negro man. The negro went to a barber and collected a bill of $10. Yaber cursed and said that no nigger could bring a bill to him. Then he knocked the negro down.

W. S. HAILE, A YOUNG MAN WELL known in the city, was bound over in a $500 bond by Recorder Broyles yesterday afternoon on the charge of gaming. The police endeavored to show that Haile was a professional gambler, for the purpose of holding him for vagrancy, but the recorder did not think the evidence sufficient. Haile proved he worked and denied that he gambled or allowed others to gamble in his rooms at No. 41 1-2 Peachtree street.

Decatur, Ala., September 28.—(Special.) After having been missing from his home at Neet, this county, for several weeks, the decomposed body of John Hubbard, a highly respected farmer, was found by a hunter floating in Flint river, near here, today.

Hubbard was wanted as a witness in an important law suit between Pfaff and McNutt, and it is thought by some that he was murdered to prevent his testifying in the case. Marks on his head gave evidence of foul play. The officials will investigate the case.

Walser Will Be Nomed.

Raleigh, N. C., September 28.—(Special.) It is learned from prominent Republicans that ex-Attorney General J. W. Walser, of Lexington, will certainly be a candidate for the republican nomination for governor next year. He is one of the most influential republicans in the state and the "machine" of his party is back of him. Of course, the nomination is a mere compliment, but nevertheless ex-Congressman Thomas Settle, now of Asheville, would like to have it. He is not in line with the machine.

LIVINGSTON DOES HARD DAY'S WORK

Colonel Arranges for Sixteen
Rural Free Deliveries.

He Sees the Quartermaster General
About Lighting Fort McPherson
with Electricity, and Attends to Various Other Matters
During Day.

Washington, September 28.—(Special.)—Representative Lon Livingston is back in Washington from a short visit to Philadelphia. Today he was busy in the various departments, and before the sun went down he had arranged with the postmaster general that the sixteen rural free delivery routes in his district, which have been hung up for some time past, shall be established without further delay.

In one or two cases further examinations may be required, but the sixteen routes are now authorized and they will be established as soon as the preliminary arrangements are completed.

After leaving the postoffice department, Colonel Livingston proceeded to the war department. There he called attention of the quartermaster general to the pending proposition submitted by the Georgia Railway and Electric Company to light Fort McPherson. The contract is in proper form, and the quartermaster general agreed to favorably recommend the closing of the contract. The matters will be immediately forwarded to the acting secretary of war for approval.

Colonel Livingston also filed an application of Lieutenant Robert Meador, of the Ninth Infantry, for transfer to duty in the Philippines.

Lieutenant Meador is now on duty in northern New York, and he desires to be transferred to the Philippines. Such requests are not frequent, and if an opening can be found for the young Georgia lieutenant, his ambition for Philippine service will probably be gratified.

Tomorrow Colonel Livingston will call upon the president to urge the appointment of John Newton, Jr., to be a second lieutenant in the army.

Young Newton was examined for a similar position last spring, and he was only four points below the eligible limit. He is a son of Major Robert Newton, now stationed at Fort McPherson, and is confident that he can pass the required examination if given another trial.

Colonel Livingston is awaiting for further advice from Atlanta before making formal application for a troop of the Seventh cavalry to be ordered to participate in the Atlanta horse show next month.

$3,000 RAISED BY NEGROES.

Fund for Walker Baptist Institute at Augusta.

Augusta, Ga., September 28.—The negro Baptists of this city and vicinity who have been holding a convention here during the past three days, succeeded in raising $3,000 in cash for the work of the Walker Baptist Institute, a normal and industrial school located in this city and owned and controlled by negroes.

Rev. C. T. Walker, D.D., who is called the "Black Spurgeon," presided over the meetings, and it is largely due to his planning that the successful results were achieved.

Those familiar with the education of the colored people in the south declare this is the largest sum ever raised by colored people at any one time anywhere for purely educational work.

TEAM AT MERCER QUITS GRIDIRON

Dispute Over Uniforms Kills
Game—Coach Harvie
Resigns.

By E. C. Bruffey.

Constitution Bureau, 467 Second Street,
Macon, Ga., September 28.—(Special.)—On the southern gridiron this fall Mercer will be conspicuous by her absence and the dates with it will have to be canceled by other college eleven at once if substitutes are to be made.

In other words there will be no Mercer football team this year until a material change is produced tomorrow, and there hangs an interesting tale.

It was during the late afternoon hours this conclusion was reached, and it was reached after matters leading up to it had been given a thorough consideration. It may all be done over again and football may possibly be restored.

Some two weeks ago, one Sunday morning, there was a fire in the main building of the Mercer team, and the members of the house are said to be slated for the two supreme court associate judgeships which were created by this legislature.

The bill passed the senate giving the governor the power to appoint these two judges, but the house would not stand for it, and amended the bill making the judges elective. These two representatives are the most conservative members in the house and are acknowledged to be as good lawyers as there are on the floor.

Hon. John A. Lusk, of Marshall, who has been called the watch dog of the treasury, because of his fighting all bills to increase the salary of any official and large appropriations, is said to be expected to ring with oratory and eloquence when Mr. Lusk announces his candidacy.

The Alabama legislature has now only three days before adjournment. The two houses did not meet today, but will tomorrow meet at 10 o'clock, and will hold a meeting that day, and Wednesday, then adjourn until Friday and complete its work.

MANY MEMBERS LOOKING HIGHER

Alabama Legislators Rich in Ambition.

Approach of Close of Session Causes
Much Talk as to Probable Political Futures—Alabama Governorship Will Not Go Begging.

Montgomery, Ala., September 28.—(Special.)—As the legislature is now nearing its end, the future political aspirations of several of its members have been clearly brought before the people by their stand on certain questions that have been of the most importance to the people at large. The house comes in for more political aspirations than does the upper body.

Lieutenant Governor Robert Cunningham, who is the presiding officer of the senate, is an acknowledged candidate for governor. Mr. Cunningham is considered one of the ablest men as well as orators in the state, and it is claimed that he is in line of promotion and should have the nomination at the next election.

Senator Joel Goldsby, of Mobile, and president pro tem. of the senate, is said to be anxious to represent his people as their chief executive. His eloquent appeal for the $100,000 appropriation for the old soldiers has made him dear to that part of the party in this state. He is practically the leader in the senate on all questions.

In the house there are several able men who are to present their names before the people as candidates for many of the state offices. It is said that Hon. A. T. London, of Jefferson, would like to be governor. Mr. London has not been able to attend the meetings of the adjourned session, but he made a favorable impression on the members at the first session, and it is said that he has a large following in the house who would be glad to see him governor and would be willing to give him their support.

Hon. R. T. Simpson and Hon. R. W. Walker, two of the most learned members of the house, are said to be slated for the two supreme court associate judgeships which were created by this legislature.

The bill passed the senate giving the governor the power to appoint these two judges, but the house would not stand for it, and amended the bill making the judges elective. These two representatives are the most conservative members in the house and are acknowledged to be as good lawyers as there are on the floor.

HAS THE INSURANCE COMPANY REJECTED YOU ON ACCOUNT OF KIDNEY DISEASE?

Dr. S. J. Reade of Buffalo, N. Y., Says More People Are Refused Life Insurance on Account of Kidney Troubles Than for All Other Causes Put Together.

Warner's Safe Cure

Secures Life Insurance for Thousands Once Rejected—Prescribe It in My Practice and Regard It as a Wonderful Specific in Kidney Diseases," he adds.

Dr. Reade, a prominent physician of 1471 Seneca street, Buffalo, N. Y., who has been examining applicants for life insurance for years, states that more people are troubled with any other form of disease, though few suspect the presence of kidney trouble. He emphasizes that Safe Cure is the most wonderful specific for kidney diseases known to science. He writes:

"For many years past I have prescribed Warner's Safe Cure in my own practice and with a marked degree of success. That is one reason why I believe so firmly in it. But my knowledge of its curative properties is not based alone upon my private practice. In the course of my work I have had occasion to examine thousands of people for life insurance. More were rejected on account of kidney troubles than for all other causes put together. Almost every other man has kidney trouble. Yet few suspected the presence of the disease when they came for examination.

"Many of those rejected returned later on cured and ready for re-examination and were accepted. I never failed to inquire as to the treatment used and to prescribe Safe Cure. I can recommend it as a wonderful specific."

From my own practice, from observation of the cases of a very large number of life insurance applicants, and from conversation with fellow physicians who prescribe Safe Cure, I can recommend it as a wonderful specific."

Kidney troubles creep into the system unawares. Before you know it they are deep seated. It awakens the torpid liver, sours the inflammation and irritation, causes the small of the back, painful passing of urine, cloudy urine, a reddish, brick dust sediment in the urine after it stands 24 hours, pains in the back of the head and neck, rheumatic pains and swellings in any part of the body, eczema, drowsiness, loss of appetite, or if a woman bearing down sensation, painful periods, fainting and other so-called female troubles. These all tell you your kidneys have been diseased for several months, for outward symptoms seldom show themselves until the poison has penetrated the different organs, and the danger point has been reached.

BRILLIANT SCENE MARKED OPENING OF BIJOU THEATER

WITH new furnishings and fittings from the orchestra circle to the top gallery, with a few of the thrills in five days of very strenuous life in Claycenter, the contents and changes in the decorations and certain have served to accustom the artistic and homelike effects of the costliest theater in the south, the Bijou bowed in modest acknowledgement to cheers on end that greeted just the sight of the blue fountained curtain again long before it raised for the first act last evening.

Perhaps for very many that little preliminary sort of curtain raiser was quite the happiest part of the evening. You could hear how at least some of them were enjoying it, for all around the theater, and conversational every one seemed to start with "Don't you remember that night we," etc., and all sprang through with "yes, dears," that were supposed to be in almost a silent tone of voice, but the "back and forth glances" were quite plain enough to be heard at least eight rows back.

And out on the balcony that serves as a sort of open-air foyer for the smokers, it was interesting to stand aside and listen to the general "trifling" editorial comment that dealt with still more reminiscences and stories and criticisms about the Bijou Musical Comedy Company and the George Fawcett Stock Company, and certain well-remembered bills of vaudeville. Really it seemed that every one was so glad to get back home to this theater that has done so much for Atlanta in the way of popular prices that they cheered at every opportunity offered, and kept on cheering just as enthusiastically when there were no reasons for cheering, and all because every one seemed to be in a cheering mood. And when you see even the hardened, calloused, passe attaches of the house, improved with a prevailing spirit of smiles and happiness, then you may know that there is joy in the box office. And it was so. For every seat was filled, and many there were who stood through the four acts of "Way Down East."

Now as to any critical discussion of this thrilling comedy, the writer's heart was warmed far too much by the prevailing enthusiasm to look at it in any other than a generous light. It opens with one of those rocking chairs, down on the farm sort of scenes that drag very perceptibly into well into the first act, when Precious Plunkett, the constable, hero, lover, friend of the heroes, and general agent of Providence, with a most remarkable way of handling all kinds of dispensations in a time of need, appears. From that time on the pace is one that would leave even Lou Dillon choking with dust to a hair start.

Murder, battle, sudden death, bank robbery, strangling, struggling with fate in its most villainous forms, and finally the arrival of the heroine rolling herself in on a heavy horse cart to untie the roped arms of her lover and prevent an explosion of dynamite, are actually only a few of the thrills in five days of very strenuous life in Claycenter, the contents and changes in the decorations and certain have served to accustom the artistic and homelike effects of the costliest theater in the south, the Bijou bowed in modest acknowledgement to cheers on end that greeted just the sight of the blue fountained curtain again long before it raised for the first act last evening.

Perhaps for very many that little preliminary sort of curtain raiser was quite the happiest part of the evening. You could hear how at least some of them were enjoying it, for all around the theater, and conversational every one seemed to start with "Don't you remember that night we," etc., and all sprang through with "yes, dears," that were supposed to be in almost a silent tone of voice, but the "back and forth glances" were quite plain enough to be heard at least eight rows back.

And out on the balcony that serves as a sort of open-air foyer for the smokers, it was interesting to stand aside and listen to the general "trifling" editorial comment that dealt with still more reminiscences and stories and criticisms about the Bijou Musical Comedy Company and the George Fawcett Stock Company, and certain well-remembered bills of vaudeville. Really it seemed that every one was so glad to get back home to this theater that has done so much for Atlanta in the way of popular prices that they cheered at every opportunity offered, and kept on cheering just as enthusiastically when there were no reasons for cheering, and all because every one seemed to be in a cheering mood. And when you see even the hardened, calloused, passe attaches of the house, improved with a prevailing spirit of smiles and happiness, then you may know that there is joy in the box office. And it was so. For every seat was filled, and many there were who stood through the four acts of "Way Down East."

Now as to any critical discussion of this thrilling comedy, the writer's heart was warmed far too much by the prevailing enthusiasm to look at it in any other than a generous light. It opens with one of those rocking chairs, down on the farm sort of scenes that drag very perceptibly into well into the first act, when Precious Plunkett, the constable, hero, lover, friend of the heroes, and general agent of Providence, with a most remarkable way of handling all kinds of dispensations in a time of need, appears. From that time on the pace is one that would leave even Lou Dillon choking with dust to a hair start.

GIRLS OUTNUMBER BOYS IN THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS

ASSISTANT SUPERINTENDENT L. M. LANDRUM, of the public school system of Atlanta, has prepared a report showing the number of boys and girls in school and comparing the different grades. The report was completed yesterday and presents some interesting facts.

In the eighth grade there are more girls in every school with the one exception of the Boulevard, where there is an even break. Altogether there are 183 boys and 309 girls, a difference of 126. In the seventh grade the same state of affairs exists. The boys are overwhelmingly outnumbered in every school but Calhoun, where they have the advantage.

From here on, however, down to the third grade, the difference gradually becomes smaller until at last the boys predominate. In the third grades there are only 609 little tots wearing dresses against 649 wearing trousers. In the second an unusual state of affairs comes to pass, for in this grade the masculine and feminine gender are represented in equal numbers, 695 of each. In the first grade, however, the number of boys is far in excess of the girls, since there are 138 more.

The totals show that there are in the white schools of the city 4,308 of the future women of the city and only 4,044 of the future men. These figures do not include the night school or the two high schools, for if these three were added

Steel is paying the penalty of a watered steel.

The Hobson matrimonial rumor will still do business at the same old stand.

President Roosevelt makes the poor little pronoun "I" wish it had never been born.

It is no longer fair to accuse an inventor of air ship discovery aspirations of being "buggy."

If the Bulgarians intend to fight they will have to do it before the Turks exterminate them.

Some of the most unpeaceable Filipino insurgents have found their true bellicose element as baseball fans.

The powers would have partitioned Turkey long ago had not seemed to hog all the white meat.

Clyde Fitch's automatic output is so profuse enough to make the elder Dumas turn despairingly in his grave.

Maybe Joe Chamberlain now wishes he had contented himself with merely looking dead while through his monocle.

Senator Hanna is getting old and gouty, but he proposes to keep right on being the boss rat in the grafty old party hold.

Mary McLean says Boston fascinate her. Mary is likely to appear with glasses on her literary nose in her next photo.

Sam Jones says he loves Teddy of the white house, but that is not to say he loves any of Teddy's dad gummed postmasters.

If those eminent Chicago professors and scientists don't smoke up, Dr. Wiley, of the agricultural department, will out-advertise them.

J. Pierpont Morgan is said to be still wearing his straw hat, and the chilly winds of October at hand. Don't scorn a poor man who has seen better days.

Elijah H. Dowie has followed the sultan of Turkey's example and hired a press agent, not necessarily for religious uses, but to whom up real estate in Zion City.

Perhaps Post Richard Watson Gilder declined to run for a New York alderman because he feared it might hurt his chances of some day becoming a railroad president like Post Clinton Scotland.

The duke of Manchester has paid $350,000 for an English castle, which means that Papa Zimmerman's tax returns in Cincinnati will hereafter be short that amount.

The little white republicans of Alabama threaten to call the hand of the party on the white man's country issue next year. Wow! that will call for a gun-play by the president.

Dowie is taking an army of his followers to New York. Does this mean that the "holier than thou" fundamentalists are doing some colonizing of voters of the goodly-goody brand?

The failure of those Chicago doctors to rob Sir Thomas Lipton of his vermillion appendix is an evidence of great forbearance on their part. Few people ever get away from Chicago without being separated from some of their goods.

The president wishes it heralded to an anxious world that his weight is but 190 instead of 220, as has been maliciously bruited abroad. Thought he took too much vocal exercise to ever allow the obesity to creep lower than his head.

Boston is still grappling with the question: "What constitutes a state of drunkenness?" The Hardens (Tenn.) Free Press man may have solved the legal puzzle when he declares a man is drunk when he is so drunk that he doesn't know it.

It is said the Salvation Army did not make a single convert in its arduous campaign in Jackson, Ky., presumably for the reason that the supreme test of good faith, imposed by the reclaimed sinner, direct himself of his hip-pocket jewelry.

An appeal was made before the national convention of dressmakers at St. Louis "pockets in skirts. Maybe if you give us dear things pockets of their own they'll keep their hands out of hubby's pocket when he is locked in Morphean unconsciousness."

Captain Oberlin M. Carter will be out of the federal pen in November and proposed to exhaust every legal effort to recover the $750,000 worth of recovered stinkies in the possession of the court, alleging that it is his own. He has lost none of his nerve.

That Texas Estimate.

The Houston Post's estimate of but 2,500,000 bales for Texas and Indian Territory may or may not be correct. It must be borne in mind that the Post has an excellent corps of correspondents throughout that section and the paper has no desire other than to get at the truth of the situation. When it comes to estimating, however, nobody can be infallible.

It is a little difficult to understand that portion of the story telegraphed from Houston which speaks of "the popular estimate six weeks ago" being 6,000,000 bales for that section. We have never heard of any such "popular estimate." The records show that the high-water mark for that section was reached in the crop of 1898-99, when Texas and the territory contributed 3,550,000 bales of the total crop of 11,275,000 bales. There must be some mistake either in the Post's figures or in the transmission of the press dispatch which contains the reference to 6,000,000 bales.

This, however, in no wise detracts from the value of the Post's estimate, based on the reports of its correspondents, that the outlook for the present crop does not indicate more than 2,500,000 bales. Of course, the present unfavorable conditions may yet show a change for the better, but even should the Texas section show its full share of an eleven-million-bale crop, the needs of the consumers will be such that the growers of cotton are assured of a good price.

Overmarketing the Cotton Crop. It is evident that raisers of cotton in some sections are rushing their crops to market as rapidly as possible and from Texas comes the statement that the railways are being hustled to hurry consignments to port.

In the light of the practical certainty that the yield of the crop will fall largely below the estimates of a few weeks ago and that the supply to meet the sure spinning and export demands will not be adequate, it seems unbusinesslike for any cotton raiser to rush his crop to market in such haste, if he is able at all to hold it, or a part of it, in his own control.

Present prices at points of delivery may be tempting. There is a natural dread on the part of producers that prices will fall. The pessimism of the class is proverbial. But conditions ought not to be ignored and the status of visible supply to calculable demand is such even now as to give every promise that prices will advance rather than decline whenever the approximate crop is known.

The Constitution believes that it is not wise for any farmer to sell cotton now that his actual necessities do not compel him to part with. Every pound of cotton will be needed and will be bought later on at prices the farmers who own it will make, and not the takers. Don't rush!

Progressive Early. The industrial number of The Blakeley Reporter, recently issued, contains an exceedingly interesting history of Early county and a great deal of matter relative to that county and the city of Blakely which tends to show the magnificent progress of recent years. Early county is unquestionably one of the best counties in Georgia, and during the last decade has shown a great industrial growth. This is in a number of different lines. The progress of the southwestern portion of the state has been most notable in all directions and no county exemplifies this more clearly than Early. Blakely and the county are both to be congratulated upon being represented by such an admirable paper as The Reporter, under the editorship of Colonel Jack Powell, has proved itself to be. The Constitution has had occasion a number of times heretofore to testify to the very great good a local paper is to the community in which it is published, and there is no better evidence of this than is that furnished by The Reporter and Blakely.

Senator Carmack's Denial. Senator Carmack says he does not intend to offer any bill in congress looking to the abolition of the fifteenth amendment to the constitution.

The amendment itself has served its original ends. It satisfied both what was called "the northern conscience" as to the political equality rights of the emancipated negroes and that proportion of hatred of the southern whites that remained as an aftermath of slavery and war among the people of the north. It outraged the sense of justice of the southern people and embarrassed our political action for many years because we did not qualify the force of the amendment as the later decisions of the supreme court of the United States have interpreted it. Today there really exists in the south no other than a surviving sentimental reason why the amendment should be further feared or finally repealed. Possibly some time ahead of us it may be abolished, but when that happens, if ever, it will be by the non-partisan action of the country at large making a demand for the reaffirmation in law of the incontestable fact that this is and must remain a white man's country.

We do not see how any man devoted to white supremacy in state or nation could wish for better conditions in that respect than exist here in Georgia. No state in the south, or in the north where negroes live in any numbers, has more peaceful and prosperous relations between the races than has Georgia. Yet this state has never passed any act, in constitution or statutes, disfranchising negroes.

Some of our sister states employed other methods of minimizing the menace to good government that inheres in general negro suffrage. We believe they have succeeded to that end by acts that are constitutional even under the fifteenth amendment. And there the whole matter may well rest for the present.

Pope's Pancreal Propaganda.

Nearly everybody in America has heard of Colonel Albert A. Pope, of Massachusetts. He is "the big I am" of the bicycle world, head of the trust, and all that. With rare perception Colonel Pope early saw that a mighty factor in booming the bicycle trade would be good smooth roads, and so he forged himself to the front as the most conspicuous apostle of the "good roads movement" in this country—a movement, we may add, that has produced good and excellent results. For much of this Colonel Pope is clearly entitled to credit and gratitude.

But, evidently, thinking on good roads on earth brought Colonel Pope to thinking on where humanity ought to be making forward progress, and that suggested the road to the better world. Thereupon this able and enterprising gentleman set out to improve that highway and make it as easy for men to reach "kingdom come" as to make the trip on one of his model wheels from Boston to his Cohasset home.

To be convinced is to act with the colonel and so he went about to bring his new ideas to pass. He has built at Cohasset the Pope Memorial church and ordained that the only creed that shall obtain in it is the eclectic one of "love to God and love to man." Anybody who can subscribe to that version of the golden rule, whether Jew, Gentile, Brahmin, Hardshell Baptist, Holiness Methodist, Roman Catholic, Unitarian, Universalist, Dowdite or Doukhor, will be welcome to fellowship in Colonel Pope's church. All these and all others who do not deny God and hate their neighbor will find the communion of this novel church as "warm and convyent" as the breeches of Brien O'linn!

It will be interesting to watch a while and see just how much of his success in other lines Colonel Pope can import into his broad-gauge boulevard to glory!

The President's Plain Duty.

There seems to be a general agreement by the press of the country that, since the death of the Hay-Herran treaty by the action of Colombia, it is now up to the president to act on the isthmian canal matter with American directness and decision. He does not lack warrant and power for the purpose. Congress has armed him with all the authority needed to open negotiations with Nicaragua and Costa Rica for the prompt building of the canal by the Lake Nicaragua route.

As the president is not displeased on occasions by being likened to the kaiser of Germany, this is a good opportunity for him to make that likeness more discernible. When William wanted the Baltic-North Sea canal he went ahead and completed it, and on its opening said: "Oceans unite; they do not sever," and: "The world's present motto is 'Easy Communication.'"

This isthmian canal business is just now at the stage when the American people would like the president to live up to those two axioms uttered by the kaiser. They want the oceans united and they want easy communication for American commerce to the most promising markets now being contended for by the agricultural and manufacturing nations of the globe.

Dr. Wiley's Prophecy.

It will not do to take Dr. Wiley, who has now come to the front as prophet of a race of bald heads, too seriously. True it is that the doctor is a learned and eminent chemist and a man who knows his business when it comes to supporting a pure food argument, or anything else, before a committee of congress. True, too, that he handled his "poison" boarders with consummate skill, concealing from the outside public the significance of the results of his interesting experiments—if there were any.

But it is equally true, and the fact must not be ignored in the consideration of the value which should attach to this last prediction of his, that Dr. Wiley is bald!

Have you ever yet found a bald-headed man who was not convinced that the one true, certain, incontestable test of wisdom is the lack of hair? Was there ever one of these poor deluded creatures who was not certain that hair is the sure sign-manual of the savage, who will not argue that the man who can do nothing else can grow hair?

Who has not noticed the calm air of self-consciousness and superiority which marks the demeanor of the billiard-ball row which crowds into the front rows of a theater when a ballet is on?

They all have it. And Dr. Wiley is one of them.

The European Zollverein.

If Professor Luzzatti, the eminent Italian financier, believes, as he is reported in our Rome correspondence printed Thursday, that Emperor William contemplates the necessity of a European zollverein against the United States, which would mean a permanent commercial warfare, we beg to say to the professor that the emperor is, for once, talking through his perforated summer helmet.

It ought not to take a man of the commercial cunning lower long to discover that any attempt to unite European nations in a general embargo upon American agricultural products and manufactures would speedily put the people of those countries on what the American hobo picturesquely calls "the hog train."

It was officially reported by government officers to the Farmers' National Congress at Niagara Falls, on Wednesday last, that in the past thirty years our agricultural exports have increased 130 per centum, while the number of persons engaged in their production increased by 75 per cent. And our ability to produce such crops is capable yet of an enormous expansion.

The United States produces 49 per centum of the world's crop of wheat. Whenever the rulers of Europe think it safe to cut in half the loaves of their people they can afford to boycott American wheat.

We produce three-fourths of the world's corn, three-fourths of its cotton and 40 per cent of the provisions used in international commerce. We have labor-saving machinery and skilled labor sufficient to produce in six months all the manufactures our own people can consume in a whole year. The balance of the year we can put in making goods to sell to Europe cheaper than she can make them for herself. Now wouldn't it jar you to imagine the folly of those agricultural pauperized and industrially paralyzed countries going half-dressed and half-clothed as a punishment to Uncle Sam?

STATE PRESS SIDELIGHTS.

Atlanta Messenger: Many Georgia newspapers announce "Jail full." Vagrants.

Savannah Press: There is one comfort about mosquitoes, observes a Georgia editor, "they hum, but they don't hum 'Hiawatha.'"

Politics in the Hill City district may be always depended upon to furnish some lively demonstrations.

Bainbridge Democrat: There is one line in which American women have the men outclassed. There are numerous American duchesses, but where are the American dukes?

Is the editor of The Democrat so un-democratic and un-American as to rank his life, resourceful, successful Georgia editor, "they hum, but they don't hum 'Hiawatha.'"

Tattnall Journal: Georgia has three hundred negroes as a result of the late legislature. And yet some people say our representatives did not do a blank thing while in Atlanta this year.

Summerville News: The race for solicitor general of the Rome circuit next year promises to be a very warm one. Hons. Shropshire and Ennis are both good politicians and the race will doubtless be very lively.

Editor McIntosh advises any young man who wishes to make his mark in the world to avoid red paint, and to be a young woman who craves a life of excitement he suggests that she marry a man to reform him.

"The Reflections of a Lonely Man." His title of a recent book. The Monitor Observer ventures the guess that it was written by "some merchant who did not pass away and had nothing else to do to pass away the time." Evidently there is no intention to reflect upon the book.

It is said that in Haralson county one can ride 20 and 30 miles and find as good roads as can be built in the south. The number of such improved roads in the rapid development of rural communities can not be overestimated. The automobile and the fifteen-bale load of cotton will here find their way along smooth thoroughfares, and the formerly almost impassable roads in bad weather.

The editor of The Cherokee Advance is endeavoring to persuade the farmers of his section of the greater independence of their soil and pleasure of being energetic and active workers on the farm, and makes this breezy comment: "Our farmers must wake up to the present improved methods of farming; cut made more money in the same amount and better work on less land; raise their supplies at home; diversify their crops; improve their machinery and improved methods, and the results will be greater prosperity."

Dr. A. B. Duncan, the present representative in the legislature from the tenth senatorial district, announces in The Lee County Journal that he has not moved his residence permanently to Atlanta, as has been announced. He says: "I wish to notify all parties that my residence is still Lee county. My taxes are paid there, my home is there. The health of my family has compelled me to leave my residence in Atlanta where I was elected to go by the people of the district, but I shall continue to be a citizen of Lee."

Beginning October 1, Ben F. Perry will again assume charge of The Cherokee Advance, published at Canton. Mr. Perry is the founder and owner of the paper, having established it in 1880, and has determined to resume editorial control, according to W. G. McNeill, the present lessee. Mr. Perry is assistant cashier of the Bank of Perry, and will continue in that position while guiding the affairs of his weekly newspaper. He has associated with him a number of the best business management of the enterprise his sons, Ben Perry and Clarence Perry. The Cherokee Advance has wide influence in its section of the state and its owner was a member of the Georgia Georgia Weekly Press Association. He is one of the most progressive and hustling men of Cherokee county, and is widely known throughout the state.

It is reported that 300 or 400 acres of land in the provinces of Havana and Pinar del Rio, on the island of Cuba, were planted last spring in sea island cotton, the seeds having been exported from South Carolina and Georgia. The receipt in Savannah of five bales of the long staple crop, the result of the first planting, leads The Savannah News to discuss the possibility of Cuba becoming a cotton raising country. The News says: "This experiment is not the first of its kind, though it is undertaken with probability more intelligence and more hope of success than any of its predecessors. If we are correctly informed, previous attempts at the production of sea island cotton have not been successful for a number of reasons, the leading one being that the quality of the product deteriorated rapidly from crop to crop, and that the cost of producing the cotton on the island was too high in the United States. And yet it is a fact that Mr. Milford, of Lowndes county, this state, investigated the Cuban soil and climate about a year ago and reached the conclusion that they were well adapted to the growing of sea island cotton. That there are certain disadvantages in connection with growing the cotton in Cuba may be taken as a fact, otherwise the staple would have been produced in the island long ago. Still, modern methods may be able to overcome those disadvantages to a certain extent, and Cuba something of a cotton country. But there is not any danger that it will take the place of the cotton of the United States, and the production of long staple cotton, South Carolina, Georgia and Florida will continue to be the chief source of supply of the finest cotton, and Savannah will be the leading market for it, as heretofore."

When You Think About It. When you come to think about it—on this old, terrestrial ball, Rimmed with roses in the Springtime, heaped with fruitage o' the Fall; Though we all were born & growin' an' we're axle-deep in doubt, There is really very little for the world to grow about!

Cept the coal bin an' the gas, An' the grocery bill—alack! An' the ancient bill for rent, When you haven't got a cent! An' your friends say, "Times'll brighten: Be content!"

When you come to think about it—did your growin' ever pay? Did it ever bend a rainbow—chase a thunder-cloud away? Don't it deafen all the angels when they try to sing an' shout? Don't they know that you have nothin' in the world to grow about?

Cept the labor, long an' sad, For the dollar, good or bad; An' the thought—from dark to dawn, That the jingling dollar's gone! An' your friends say, "Times'll brighten: Labor on!"

When you come to think about it—but the best way's not to think! There's a spring there, by the wayside: Stoop, ye travelers, and drink! There's a green tree in the desert 'neath a firmament o' blue; And a live that's drippin' honey for the famished lips of you!

(But the tree is far away, O'er the desert, dim and gray; An' the Fates seem not to know That you want the honey! An' your friends say, "Times'll brighten: Let her go!")

FROM FIVE DOLLARS WEEKLY TO ONE MILLION A YEAR

For Once, a Story of an Astonishing Windfall Proves True—Russian Workman Drops Into Possession of $30,000,000 and Sets Out to Spend It.

Special Correspondence.

London, September 18.—As if to make up for all the stories of vast and unexpected inheritances that haven't proved true, it appears that the biggest story of the kind on record can be verified in every detail. A brief report of the extraordinary incident was cabled recently from St. Petersburg, and I requested your correspondent there to look it up and supply the missing details. The story proved true. The answer received today with a rather poor photograph of the hero is as follows:

The young Russian mechanic, Ivan Doroschenko, may be fitly described as the luckiest man in the world. Until a few days ago he was a common workman employed on the railroad works at Kharboff, and earning the modest wage of $5 per week. He lodged in a laborer's hut, outside of the town, where he shared a small room with four other men employed on the same work. He was obliged to be up before 4 o'clock every morning in order to reach the railroad works in time to begin the labor of the day punctually at 6 o'clock. His hours of labor lasted from this early hour till noon, with a few minutes' interval at 9 o'clock and from 1 p. m. till 5 p. m., making eleven hours in all.

His daily fare consisted of bread, washed down with cheap Russian brandy, for his means did not enable him to indulge in the luxury of meat more than once a week, on Sundays. Pleasures in life he had none. On Sundays and saints' days, when he was not required to go to work, he used to sleep off the exhaustion caused by his continuous toil. He had no relatives that he knew of, and lived a lonely, joyless life of incessant labor.

It is hard to imagine what his feelings must have been when two notaries appeared at the railroad works, called him aside, and communicated to him the amazing intelligence that he had inherited the fortune of $30,000,000. At first Doroschenko thought that he was the victim of a poor practical joke, but the two notaries soon convinced him of the genuineness of the communication they had made to him, and outlined to him briefly the story of his inheritance.

How the Fortune Originated.

It appears that a celebrated captain of Cossacks, who lived in the earlier half of the eighteenth century, amassed a fortune, which in those times was almost unprecedented. His name was Doroschenko, and he was a man of extreme eccentricities. He married the daughter of a serf on his estate, the girl herself being a serf, and after he had married her he could not bear the sight of her and of their children.

When he died, in 1750, it was found he had made a curious will, providing that his entire estate and fortune should be left intact for 150 years, and that, after the expiration of this period, it should be divided into equal parts among his direct descendants. His children cursed his memory, and the money was put aside to grow through the accumulation of interest to the colossal sum of $30,000,000. In 1900, the authorities began to look for the rightful heirs to this magnificent property. This was a task of some difficulty, owing to the laxity often observed in Russia in the registration of births and deaths. Finally, it was ascertained that the only genuine claimant to the inheritance was Ivan Doroschenko, the railroad mechanic, who is the great great great grandson of the celebrated "hetman" of the eighteenth century. No other direct descendants of the eccentric millionaire are living, or if they be, they have no legal proofs to substantiate their demands.

Doroschenko heard of the news of his fabulous good fortune with the proverbial stolidity of the Muscovite. When he had made sure that he was not being fooled, and had received an installment of his money, his first steps were to an eating house, where he treated himself and the two notaries to a glutinous meal of seventeen courses, each one of which was a highly unsuitable sequence to the former.

His next stopping place was the best tailor in Kharboff, where he bought the latest expensive ready-made suit on the premises, at the same time giving orders for a score of other suits to be made to measure. The tailor, on hearing from the notaries the reason of this strange visit, became servile in his efforts to be adequately polite to the millionaire. From the tailor's to the shoe store was the next way, and Doroschenko was pleased to admire himself in a pair of shining patent leather shoes.

Drank With His Servants.

A further round was then made to all varieties of shops, at every one of which Doroschenko made purchases to an extent which showed how easy it is for a

TAX HEARING IS COMPLETED

Amorous' Special Tax Committee
Adjourns Until Next Month.

Committee Has Learned Many Things
from Officials—Has Many Ideas
Under Consideration, and Is Expected To Write Interesting Report.

The fact that there will be no increase in the tax rate of Atlanta was positively announced last evening by Councilman Martin F. Amorous, who is the chairman of the special committee of council that has undertaken the difficult task of finding enough money in taxes to operate the departments of the municipal government. Councilman Amorous has made a special study of the tax problem since he became a member of the general council, and as chairman of the present special committee he has had an opportunity for impressing his views upon his colleagues.

During the interview given last evening Councilman Amorous also gave a clearer idea of what would be done by the committee than has yet been stated. "The committee of which I am chairman," declared Councilman Amorous, "will never recommend an increase in the tax rate of Atlanta. The members of the committee have not even entertained such an idea."

The result of increasing the tax rate would be to increase the taxes of those who are already contributing to the support of the city government. We do not intend to increase the taxes of these good citizens.

"The committee is convinced that there are thousands of persons in Atlanta who are not now paying taxes to the city. What we want to do is to invite these persons to come forward and aid the rest of us in supporting the city government. About one-third of the parents of children who are now in the public schools of Atlanta do not pay one dollar in taxes. We want the parents of these children to have an opportunity to help maintain the public school system of which they must realize the benefits."

"The object of our committee is not to increase the taxes of those who are now helping to support the municipal government, but to increase the number of taxpayers citizens."

The meeting yesterday afternoon was attended by the three tax assessors, J. L. Harrison, C. D. Meador and J. H. Ewing; City Marshal Robert E. Riley; Tax Investigator John T. Collier and Judge George Hillier.

The committee will not meet sooner for the reason that two of its members, Councilman Winn and Councilman Hyatt, will leave the city next Monday for the purpose of attending the annual convention of the League of American Municipalities. It is believed that they will hear during the convention of the representatives from many cities new ideas regarding the tax problem, and their visit to Baltimore will therefore be of use to Atlanta. Directly after the return of the Atlanta delegates to the convention the committee of Councilman Amorous will meet for the purpose of writing a report.

The committee inclines favorably to a number of plans for the solution of the tax problem. Some of them are as follows: The majority of them will doubtless be incorporated into the report of the special committee:

Publication of the returns each day during the assessing period in the daily papers of Atlanta.

Publication of all returns after the period of assessments in pamphlet form for the use of merchants and others who desire knowing the amount of taxes returned by everyone in Atlanta.

Enforcement by police court fines of those persons who fail to give information regarding their property during the period provided by law for the making of returns.

An extension of the time for making tax returns and providing for two instead of three installments of taxes.

Election of the city marshal, whose duty it is to collect taxes from defaulters, by the general council instead of by the people.

Installation of the fee system in the marshal's office, thus paying that official a percentage upon the amount he collects from defaulters.

Closer questioning of those who make tax returns, asking them if they have certain articles in their houses and asking them whether any of their household furniture is owned by members of their respective families.

These are some of the ideas that will be mentally debated by members of the committee before the next meeting of the committee on October 15.

The special committee was appointed for the purpose of finding some way for increasing the tax returns of Atlanta in order to give the city more money with which to operate the various departments and to prevent the necessity for issuing bonds every two or three years in order to meet the expenses of the municipality.

THE PASSING THROG.

Since the Calvin vagrancy law has become the nucleus of the never-working some queer things have happened in the courts of Georgia, some of these queer things taking place in Judge Broyles' court here in Atlanta.

"I was in Judge Broyles' court room the other day," remarked an observant citizen to the Passing Throg man, "and I saw one of the most picturesque vagrants in the city tried and sentenced."

"His name was—well, just call him Albert—and the witnesses against him said he hadn't done a lick of work in Atlanta for seven years, about which time he was known to have earned $3."

"The witness stated, Albert purchased a terrier pup and the two were always together in those places where idlers most congregate."

"Now, it seems that Albert's family, believing that this pup was a nuisance, poisoned it one day. Albert was broken hearted and for three years he took to drinking, offering only one excuse when the police would arrest him and lock him up: 'They poisoned my dog, and I'm lonely—just naturally rotten drink.'"

"But one summer, one memorable summer, the United States and Spain were at war and troops were wanted in the Philippines. In the midst of these exciting days Albert was hailed before Judge Broyles on the old familiar charge: 'Drunk on the streets.'"

"Albert," said Judge Broyles, "you've been here a good many times and now I'm going to send you to the Philippines as a soldier for three years."

"Albert believed that the sentence of a police court was absolute and so he enlisted, and fought like a true soldier, so they say, coming back to Atlanta some time ago with several savings from his salary in his pocket, and though he is modest concerning that, a bullet or two somewhere in his 'hards.'"

"But the old grier came back, the grier for the terrier pup, when he looked once more on the well known paving stones of Decatur street and presently Albert was a regular attendant at police court on the same old charge, 'Drunk on the streets.'"

And then the Calvin vagrancy law was passed and Albert once more appeared before Judge Broyles, but this time he was sent to another place than the Philippines.

Editor T. S. Shope, of The North Georgia Citizen, of Dalton, Ga., who was in the city yesterday, stood an excellent chance of securing the position of chauffeur on Secretary Frank Weldon's "Red Devil" till recently, when his inability to drive a horseless carriage was shown.

The story of how he missed getting the job has been "suppressed" by Editor Shope for several weeks, but it has leaked out, and yesterday he had the pleasure of hearing it told to a group of which he was a member in the lobby of one of Atlanta's leading hotels.

"Our friend Shope there can run a weekly newspaper about as well as any man in the state, but he cannot run an automobile, at least he cannot run the kind that Secretary Frank Weldon has advertised to be held in Atlanta next month."

With this opening shot Editor Shope, who had been one of the talkers of the group, suddenly became a listener, for he thought he had succeeded in keeping the story quiet.

"It was this way," continued the talker, and Editor Shope was all ears. "When the 'Red Devil' visited Dalton a few weeks ago Shope decided he knew enough to run the thing, and succeeded in establishing in others his sublime faith in himself to the extent that on one of those ideal moonlight nights such as can be found only in North Georgia, Mr. Shope ran the 'Red Devil' with him, Miss Cora Beard, Tom Greene, of Atlanta, and Harry Peck trusted themselves to the tender mercies of 'Chauffeur' Shope and started off for a run over the hills near Dalton."

"The 'Red Devil' worked like a charm till the merry party reached a point about 7 miles out from Dalton, when suddenly and without any previous warning the machine played the part of its master, and came to a dead halt on the side of the mountain."

"After working with it for an hour 'Chauffeur' Shope succeeded in getting it so that it would run up hill backwards. Other than this it refused to move."

"Now, imagine Editor Shope's plight: Seven miles from town and his horseless carriage as dead as a log. They tell it on him that he and Mr. Peck would have insisted on a nearby farmer letting them have a wagon with which to carry the young ladies back to town, but the vicious bull dogs in the yard stood them at bay, and they had to spin out some kind of a yarn to the ladies of the party to the effect that the farmer refused to let them have a wagon."

"When the bedraggled party reached town about 3 o'clock the next morning, after a 7-mile walk, the young ladies were all aware of the fact that high-heeled slippers and evening dresses were not the most comfortable wearing apparel for such a tramp."

"The 'Red Devil' spent the night in the mountains. Editor Shope is now known in Dalton as 'Chauffeur' Shope, but Secretary Weldon refuses to recognize the title."

DELICATE POINT OF LAW INVOLVED

Campbells of North Carolina
Suing for Valuable Property.

Claimed That Title of Property Was Vested in Child That Died in Its Infancy—Case Will Be Fought to the Bitter End.

An interesting case, and one which will involve some very delicate law points, was begun in Judge Lumpkin's court yesterday morning when the case of Mrs. Anna Campbell, George A. Campbell and Eugene Campbell, of Franklin, N. C., against Frank T. Ryan, of this city, was called.

Besides the many interesting and intricate points of law which will be brought out in the trial of the case, it involves two large lots on Washington street, real estate valued at probably $30,000.

Mrs. Campbell, her husband and son are suing Mr. Ryan for the possession of the property and base their claim to this valuable real estate on a marriage contract or deed which was made July 27, 1888, a short time before the marriage of William N. Kirkpatrick and Mrs. Hulda Ryan, both of whom are now dead.

Mrs. Anna Campbell, one of the plaintiffs in the case, is the daughter of Mr. Kirkpatrick by a former marriage. George Campbell was formerly the husband of Miss Eugenie Kirkpatrick, another daughter of William Kirkpatrick, and Eugene Campbell is his son by this marriage. George Campbell is now the husband of Mrs. Anna Campbell.

Frank T. Ryan, the defendant in the case, is the son of Mrs. Hulda Ryan, afterwards Mrs. William Kirkpatrick. The plaintiffs allege that prior to the marriage of Mrs. Hulda Ryan to William N. Kirkpatrick, Mrs. Ryan deeded city lots No. 27 and 28 on Washington street, opposite the Joseph Brown estate, to James W. Kirkpatrick, as trustee, to be held in trust in case there was no issue as a result of her marriage with Mr. Kirkpatrick, and that in case of the birth of a child the property would go to this child after the death of Mrs. Kirkpatrick, and that in case there was no issue of this marriage the property would go to Frank T. Ryan and his brother, who has since died.

The plaintiffs allege that Mrs. Ryan and William Kirkpatrick were married in July, 1880, and that in July, 1881, a child was born and named Hugh L. Kirkpatrick, and that this child died in infancy.

The plaintiffs hold that the title of the property was vested in this child, and that as his heirs at law are the rightful owners of the property.

The defendant, on the other hand, claims that the marriage title which gave the property to the child was contingent upon its living till after the death of Mrs. Kirkpatrick, which occurred in 1888, and that since the child died in infancy the property goes to Mr. Ryan. Mr. Ryan has been in possession of the property since the death of his mother, Mrs. Kirkpatrick.

The defendant further alleges that Mrs. Kirkpatrick had no right to make such a title to the land, since it was purchased with the money of the old Ryan estate.

Attorneys Candler & Thomson and W. D. Thomson represent the plaintiffs in the case and Mr. Ryan is represented by Dorsey, Brewster & Howell.

The trial of the case will likely occupy several days.

SUITS ARE REMOVED HERE.
Two Cases from Gwinnett County To Be Tried in the Federal Court.

Two suits against the Southern Railway Company were yesterday removed from the Gwinnett superior court to the United States court in Atlanta on application of the railroad company.

One of the cases is the suit of Mrs. Annie L. Ross for $20,000 and the other one is the suit of Texas Anderson for $12,000. Mrs. Ross, who now resides in Atlanta, alleges that she was badly injured on June 10, 1902, in a collision between a passenger and freight train at Norcross. She was then residing at Norcross and was enroute to her home at the time of the accident. Mrs. Ross is represented by Attorney E. Winn Born.

Texas Anderson is suing on account of the death of her husband, who was a brakeman and coupler on a freight train running between Topeka and Atlanta, and it is alleged, was killed in an accident on January 20 of the present year. Attorney C. T. Ladson represents the plaintiff.

Court-martial for Guardsmen.
Raleigh, N. C., September 28.—(Special.)—All the national guardsmen who failed to be present at the encampment this year without regular leave of absence are to be court-martialed. Heretofore there has been great laxity about this matter, but now that the soldiers are paid, no such leniency is shown. There is general pleasure at the change. The Dick law has been a powerful stimulus to the national guards of this state. The effect is something really wonderful.

IN THE COURTS.

An unusual proceeding occurred in the civil branch of the city court yesterday when Judge Reid granted papers of naturalization to Nicholas C. Christopoulos, a Greek.

As a rule, this is a matter passed upon by the superior court, but as Judge Lumpkin was busy at the time yesterday Hugh Dorsey, attorney for Christopoulos, carried the matter before Judge Reid and had him sign the papers admitting this former subject of King George of Greece to all the rights, privileges and immunities of a citizen of the United States.

Pullman Company Sued.
C. E. Schaeffer, alleging that he was robbed while riding on a Pullman car, yesterday brought suit against the Pullman company in the city court to recover damages to the amount of $329.65.

Mr. Schaeffer alleges that there was no conductor on the Pullman car running between Atlanta and Augusta on the night of August 23, and that through the negligence of the defendant company he was robbed of one 2-karat diamond ring, valued at $300, a $20 bill, $3.65 in silver and three razors, valued at $6.

He is represented by attorneys Staton & Phillips.

Sues for Alimony.
Mrs. Georgia E. Bridge, of this city, yesterday instituted proceedings in the superior court to secure permanent alimony from her alleged husband, James Bridge.

Mrs. Bridge makes the sensational charge that the parties to the marriage refused to recognize her as his wife since they returned from Hamilton county, Tennessee, where she alleges they were married May 25, 1903.

She makes other sensational charges against her alleged husband. She alleges also that he is worth about $8,300, and asks the court to render judgment requiring him to support her and her two children.

She is represented by Attorneys J. R. Pottle and E. Winn Born.

John E. Hairfoot yesterday brought suit against the Louisville and Nashville and the Atlantic Coast Line railroads, as lessees of the Georgia railroad, to recover alleged damages to the amount of $5,000.

He alleges that he was seriously and permanently injured while in the employ of the defendant company as switchman. Sidney C. Tapp is his attorney.

W. J. Tucker, J. H. Gouley and J. E. Stamps filed a petition with Clerk Arnold Broyles, of the superior court, yesterday to be incorporated under the name of the Atlanta Beating and Packing Company.

The concern is capitalized at $10,000, and asks for the privilege of increasing this to an amount not exceeding $100,000.

J. S. Slicer is attorney for the concern.

VETERANS OF SPANISH WAR.
Fourth Annual Convention Meets at New Haven.

New Haven, Conn., September 28.—Clad in uniforms of blue and gray, emblematic of the reunion of comrades of men formerly separated by civil strife, 1,000 soldiers of the Spanish-American war marched in parade today in a preliminary to the opening of the fourth annual convention of the Association of Spanish War Veterans. They were reviewed by veterans of the Grand Army of the Republic, by state and city officials and by President Hadley, of Yale university, while in the procession accompanying them as an escort were the Second regiment of the Connecticut national guard, the naval battalion, Governor's Foot Guards, members of the Naval Veterans' Association, the Knights of Columbus and other civic societies.

The first assemblage of the day, aside from the many informal gatherings of old comrades in the hotels and on street corners, was that of the council of the association, which met at 10 o'clock at the New Haven house. This meeting was largely for the purpose of completing the details of the programme for the convention.

Reports of work accomplished during the year were submitted to the national council and were referred to the convention for acceptance.

How Trials Will Be Conducted.
Three Charges Against Captain
Moon May Be Separated.
Comment on Feature of Capt. Moon's Report.

The trial of Captain Z. B. Moon and Captain J. A. Thompson before the police board may take place earlier than October 13, which is the time for the board's next regular monthly meeting. Chairman Fox states that there may be a called meeting as soon as Mayor Howell returns to the city. The mayor is expected to return on October 3.

In connection with the pending investigation of the charges against the two captains, the rules governing the board in such matters are of interest. The case against Captain Thompson will be quickly disposed of, as he is only charged with failing to make a written report to the chief when requested to do so; but the case against Captain Moon may occupy several hours, and may go over from one session to another, as did the case against Detective Captain Bradley Slaughter.

The police rule book says regarding trials:

How Policemen Are Tried.
"Trials of police officers will be held at such times as may be ordered by the board of police commissioners. Notice of the time and place of trial, together with a copy of the charges and specifications, shall be served on the accused party at least two days before the time of trial, including the day of service. Such notice shall be served by delivering it to the accused in person or by leaving it at his last and usual place of abode. The examination and cross-examination of all witnesses shall not occupy more than one hour. Witnesses shall be sworn and examined separately and apart from each other, in the discretion of the board of police commissioners. In the trial of members of the police force charged with a violation of the rules or ordinances the rooms shall be cleared after the testimony of the witnesses has been heard until the decision of the board is formed."

Trial Officers AT EARLY DATE

Police Captains' Trial May Occur on October 3.

How Trials Will Be Conducted.
Three Charges Against Captain
Moon May Be Separated.
Comment on Feature of Capt. Moon's Report.

The trial of Captain Z. B. Moon and Captain J. A. Thompson before the police board may take place earlier than October 13, which is the time for the board's next regular monthly meeting. Chairman Fox states that there may be a called meeting as soon as Mayor Howell returns to the city. The mayor is expected to return on October 3.

In connection with the pending investigation of the charges against the two captains, the rules governing the board in such matters are of interest. The case against Captain Thompson will be quickly disposed of, as he is only charged with failing to make a written report to the chief when requested to do so; but the case against Captain Moon may occupy several hours, and may go over from one session to another, as did the case against Detective Captain Bradley Slaughter.

The police rule book says regarding trials:

How Policemen Are Tried.
"Trials of police officers will be held at such times as may be ordered by the board of police commissioners. Notice of the time and place of trial, together with a copy of the charges and specifications, shall be served on the accused party at least two days before the time of trial, including the day of service. Such notice shall be served by delivering it to the accused in person or by leaving it at his last and usual place of abode. The examination and cross-examination of all witnesses shall not occupy more than one hour. Witnesses shall be sworn and examined separately and apart from each other, in the discretion of the board of police commissioners. In the trial of members of the police force charged with a violation of the rules or ordinances the rooms shall be cleared after the testimony of the witnesses has been heard until the decision of the board is formed."

When Captain Moon's case is called he may be tried on all three charges at once or the charges may be taken up one at a time. The three charges are: Insubordination in refusing to make a written report to the chief; conduct unbecoming an officer in neglecting a report about the chief of police which was not true; conduct unbecoming an officer in "tipping off" a woman with a letter signed "Jones," and which he is said to have written.

There has been some comment about one feature in Captain Moon's letter to the chief and mayor after he was suspended. Among other things the captain said: "I scented another newspaper sensation in the air," and he supplemented this with: "Sensational newspaper stories have done more to break down discipline in the police department than all other sources combined." The captain did not go into any details and did not mention any sensational newspaper stories he referred to.

The trial of Captain Moon promises to be replete with interesting features and it is believed that no factional differences, said to exist in the board, will enter into the investigation.

Alabama Governor Approves
Bill Prohibiting Sunday
Baseball.

Montgomery, Ala., September 28.—(Special.)—Governor Jelks today signed the bill prohibiting the playing of baseball, football, golf and tennis on the Sabbath.

The bill was aimed at Montgomery, as this city is the only one in the state that played baseball on Sunday. The fans here have done everything possible to defeat the measure, but without success, as the preachers got to work, and by doing some splendid canvassing, had the bill passed by a large majority.

The fans thought that the passage of this bill would injure Montgomery's standing in the league, and that, perhaps, this city would be left out of the league next season, but the manager of the traction company has stated that Montgomery will be in the league next season, if this city comes as good news to the fans, but they wanted Sunday ball, as it was impossible for many of them to get to the games on the week days.

There is no chance now for Sunday baseball in this state for the next four years, as the legislature does not meet until four years from now.

SOCIETY

Dancing Party.

ON yesterday afternoon from 4 to 7 o'clock Mrs. Fannie Lamar Rankin entertained at a dancing party at her home on Capitol avenue in compliment to her two lovely little granddaughters, Fannie Rankin Young and Margaret Young, of Jacksonville, Fla., who will be her guests for a week.

Mrs. Rankin's handsome home on Capitol avenue was elaborately decorated, the color scheme of red and yellow being used throughout the house, which presented an unusually attractive appearance.

The two front drawing rooms were used for dancing and the orchestra was placed at one of the halls behind a bank of palms and ferns. All sorts of beautiful favors were given and the guests of honor received as special favors a French doll dressed in blue silk and a basket of Huyler's tied with bright colored ribbons.

An enjoyable feature of the afternoon was the fancy dances given by the two graceful little visiting girls, one wearing a gown of pink and the other pale green silk and lace.

Aside from the dancing a number of games were played, two of the most popular being the fish pond, from which each guest drew a prize, and guessing the beans in the pot, the one coming nearest the correct number receiving as a prize a ball box.

In the dining room the table was covered with a white cloth embroidered in crimson poppies and decorated in American beauty roses and dozens of tiny fairy lamps in the shape of poppies.

The punch bowl was placed on the front veranda and was wreathed in grapes and flowers.

Mrs. Rankin wore a becoming gown of white chiffon and was assisted in the entertainment of the young people by her daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Manley, who wore a dainty gown of pink silk. The guests were introduced by Mrs. Shorter Rankin and were as follows: Misses Josephine Stoney, Adeline Thomas, Mary Cooper, Julia Edmonds, Harriet Calhoun, Laura Cowles, Carrie Hoyt Brown, Bessie Jones, Willie Muse, Carrie Muse, Aurelia Souter, Eva Belle Gregg, Gladys Paine, Sarah Rawson, Fannie May Ottles, Minnie Evans, Annie Lee McKenney, Rebecca Smith, Margaret Rushton, Julia Edmonds, Margaret Northern, Elizabeth Parker, Eva Jackson, Misses Reid, May Taylor, Elizabeth Parks, Alice Parks, Charles Owens, Katherine Blackley, McDonald Britton, Stewart Witham, Ralph Ragan, Richard Edmonds, George Speer, Hugo Hagan, A. Mrs. Pearce Entertains.

THE first fall meeting of the Young Matrons' Club, of Decatur, was held at the home of Mrs. Pearce, on Friday afternoon. Before the social side, a business meeting was held. Mrs. Eugene Wilson was unanimously elected president for the coming year. Many new by-laws were made and voted on. The Young Matrons' Club is a most delightful one socially, and, although over a year old, interest in it has never lagged. It is composed of thirty-two members (limited). Many delightful parties have been given.

A large affair will be given some time this winter, when the husbands of the members will be entertained. Mrs. Pearce entertained in her usual gracious manner on Friday, and, after a most enjoyable game of progressive flinch, a salad course was served.

The first prize, a silver paper knife, was won by Mrs. Lawrence Everhart. The second, a dainty lace handkerchief, was drawn by Mrs. Ruth Pattillo. The consolation, a tie, was won by Mrs. J. P. Laird. Those present were Mrs. Cliff Cowles, Mrs. Will Landrum, Mrs. Ruth Pattillo, Mrs. Richard Simms, Mrs. Edwin Ansley, Mrs. Jennie Findley, Mrs. McDowell, Mrs. J. P. Laird, Mrs. E. K. Hunter, Mrs. Lawrence Everhart, Mrs. Park Glenn, Mrs. Martin, Mrs. John Montgomery, Mrs. Eugene Wilson, Mrs. E. P. Roberts, Mrs. Roland, and Misses Lotte Ramspeck, Adie Boyd, Adie Everhart and Kate Ansley.

Miss Heath is a young woman of exceptional charm, and there will be gathered around her cordial admirers who are interested in her marriage to Mr. Hunter, who is a representative of western success, his business being in Arkansas.

Miss Heath will enter the church with her father, Mr. A. T. Heath, and the ceremony will be performed by Rev. G. W. Bull. Mr. Will Heath acting as best man. The matrons of honor will wear white chiffon gowns with yellow sashes and their bouquets will be of golden rod, the golden rod idea to be carried out in the decoration of the church, which will be most effective.

Immediately after the ceremony, Mr. Heath and his bride leave for Tennessee, where they will visit his relatives before going on to his present home in Arkansas.

By Louise Dooly.

A SURPRISINGLY good audience heard the violin recital Thursday night by Mr. Gustave Pringnitz. When he was assisted by Mr. Kurt Mueller, pianist; Mr. Onida Tyler, tenor, and Mr. B. C. Davis, reader. The audience was surprised in that it was much larger than any attracted of late months by musical events, whatever their nature or excellence.

Mr. Pringnitz's long sustained reputation as a violinist of more than ordinary reputation assembled many of the music lovers who were there, although Mr. Pringnitz has not been heard in public for many years, and his performance last night of a big programme, which included his own arrangement of Paganini's "Prayer to Moses," with variations on the G string, was the occasion of a gratifying enthusiasm.

Mr. Mueller numbers his musical admirers by the number of those who have heard him play, and on this occasion his clever unravelling of the complicated "Military March" gave only another pleasant surprise in degree from the quieter group that included a Chopin, a Rubinstein and a Grieg number, the Rubinstein etude in C major especially showing his smooth, flowing touch and a phrasing that was most satisfactory.

Considerable curiosity centered around the singing of Mr. Tyler, the new tenor. His programme was not complete enough to show more than his ability in ballad singing, but in this particular his work, especially in the medium register, is exceptionally good, and he has high tones that are vibrant and genuine. His enunciation leaves something to be desired, but there are admirable traits of spirit and freshness, and of quality that will make Mr. Tyler a valuable addition to Atlanta's short list of singers.

Mr. Davis' participation in the entertainment showed that his medium register is good, and his high voice, except when he occasionally betrays some timidity about his powers, is vibrant and true. While his enunciation is somewhat of a defect, there are admirable traits of spirit and freshness, and he will be a valuable addition to Atlanta's short list of good singers.

Mr. Davis' participation in the entertainment, while not musical, was a compensating feature, as he invested his readings with an attractiveness and an art that secured a cordial reception.

Sonata Recital.

An announcement that will be well received by devotees of good music is that of the sonata recitals which Mr. Alfredo Barilli and Mr. C. Edward Buchanan propose to give this fall. Beginning ning in October, they will present a series of sonatas for violin and piano representative of the best that is written in this form.

This instance of enterprise is in line with one or two other local plans which are inspired principally by the laudable desire on the part of Atlanta artists to make up at home for what we will miss of the good things from abroad that will pass us by. Doubtless these local events will meet with the encouragement they deserve, and possibly suggest other local attempts. There is a healthy amount of talent for the purpose.

A personal of interest musically and socially as well is the approaching visit of Mrs. Digby Bell. Coming with the De Wolf Hopper company in the fall, she will be with Mrs. Frank Pearson for a brief stay.

The Deatur Musical Club introduced themselves musically last Tuesday night in a concert which was altogether successful. The choral study is a splendid undertaking and they have already progressed nicely, while they are fortunate enough to have secured on this occasion the best solo assistance from outside, Mrs. Peyton H. Todd singing several times, and they have excellent solo performers among themselves. Their present achievement should predict a successful future.

Miss Adelaide Allen will study music in Washington this winter.

Miss Georgia Watts will continue her voice study in New York this winter.

Mr. J. W. Marshbank proposes giving a series of song recitals this winter, and their purpose is an interesting one. It is his desire to place before young singers the classics they seldom have opportunity to hear, his idea being that they may thus know the classics through actual interpretation and that they may learn how to go about the formation of a representative repertoire. This plan is one of the most promising of the winter's brief programme.

There was some splendid solo work in a concert given at the college last Tuesday night by the choir of the Sacred Heart church, and the chorus was a large one. The students forming the audience were enthusiastic. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pearson, Mrs. M. M. O'Brien and Mr. Henry Hason being given a most cordial reception, to which they responded with their best efforts.

Miss Helen Collins, who is pleasantly remembered in Atlanta in consequence of her brief visit here last spring, left Atlanta Saturday for Asheville, where her marriage will take place at an early date. She is a pianist of ability, her specialty that of accompaniment, and it is gratifying to know that she will continue her musical pursuits after her marriage.

GRANDMOTHER'S APPEAL GAINS COURT'S SYMPATHY

"DON'T give up your children, Willie. Stick to them, my daughter, for they are flesh of your flesh, bone of your bone."

This advice, given to Mrs. Robert Yarbrough by her old mother in the recorder's court yesterday afternoon, was the climax in one of the most interesting scenes that was ever enacted before Judge Broyles.

Robert Yarbrough deserted his wife and two little children last Saturday night after he and his wife had a fight. Yarbrough left her home at No. 117 Wells street, telling her neighbors she might never come back, and if she didn't return to give her children to the police. When two hours had elapsed the police were notified and Mrs. Yarbrough's children were found locked up in a room alone. The eldest was cold and hungry and the baby was wrapped up in a wet sheet with an old quilt over its head. But for the timely arrival of the officers the baby might have been smothered to death.

The children were taken to the police barracks and placed in the care of the matron. Later in the day a fight was brought went to the home of her mother, Mrs. William Holt, and told her what she had done. Mrs. Holt immediately started with her daughter for the police barracks.

The children were carried before Recorder Broyles, and mother and grandmother were in court. One of the children is about two years of age and the other is only three weeks old. Witnesses told how Mr. and Mrs. Yarbrough had had a fight Saturday night, which ended by Yarbrough deserting his family. They stated that Mrs. Yarbrough also left her children unprotected for.

Old Grandmother Weeps.

While the story was being told Mrs. Holt wept, the tears flowing fast down her withered cheeks. The sight of her mother weeping caused Mrs. Yarbrough to suddenly rush over to where the matron was holding her children and she threw her arms about the eldest child and wept hysterically.

A woman, who resides at East Point, was in court and she said she would adopt the eldest child if allowed to do so. Mrs. Yarbrough had told the recorder she could not take care of the children, and Mrs. Holt had said she was too poor to feed them. When the woman made the proposition to adopt one of the children Mrs. Holt clutched convulsively at her daughter and cried out:

"Don't give up your children, Willie. Stick to them, my daughter, for they are flesh of your flesh, bone of your bone. I am poor, very poor, but let me have them. Before it shall be said that the mother gave them away I will take them and we will all perish together."

The recorder was deeply touched by the piteous appeal of the old grandmother and he consented for both children to go to the home for the Friendless for a while. Mrs. Yarbrough promising to support them as soon as she became strong enough to do so.

MINUTE MAN WINS $10,000 STAKES

Madden's Horse Leads in Feature of Morris Park

Whitney's Hippocorates Was Second in the Fifth Matron Stakes. Minute Man Came Out Four Lengths Ahead of the Others in Race.

New York, September 28.—J. E. Madden's Minute Man easily won the $10,000 fifth Matron stakes for colts and geldings at Morris Park today. He and his stable companion, Panique, were favorites in the betting, closing at 6 to 5. W. C. Whitney's Hippocorates, second choice, was second. Six year-old Madden's Minute Man went out to make the pace and as the field came in sight at the head of the Eclipse course he was leading by a length. He gradually increased his lead to the finish and won by 4 lengths. Arrived at the city at 12:12. The Minute Man came out four lengths ahead of the others in race.

The thirty-eight Jerome stakes, for 3-year-olds, was practically a failure, only two horses responding to the bugle call. The pair ran like a team to well in the stretch, where Eugene Burch drew away from Grey Friar and won driving by half a length.

Trinity Bell, from the Drake stable, and backed down from 15 to 1 to 7 to 1, won the last race by 2 lengths.

August Belmont today announced that he intended to sell all his horses now racing in his colors and also the yearlings. The sale will be held one week from next Thursday. Summary:

Brew was a United States soldier in China and the Philippines and returned home a year ago and engaged in the saloon business here. Since then he has been leading a fast life. His bride was from one of the best families.

Augustus Becker's Back Broken While Playing in Scrub Game.

Chicago, September 28.—The first serious accident of the present football season occurred at the Lake Forest academy Saturday.

Augustus Becker, a junior, whose home is in New Mexico, was the victim, and a fatal outcome was admitted last night to be probable. The boy's spine was fractured at the third vertebra, paralyzing the lower part of the body.

Dr. A. C. Haven summoned Dr. Nicholas Senn into consultation, and at the conclusion of their examination they would not make a hopeful statement.

"There is no doubt about the fracture of the spine," said Dr. Haven. "It is at the third vertebra, just between the shoulders. The patient's condition has not changed since the accident. The usual paralysis is present. Such cases generally are fatal, and I cannot tell what the outcome in this one will be."

The boy's father was notified immediately and was kept closely informed regarding his son's condition. He prepared at once to start for Lake Forest.

Tries for Place on Team. The regular football team of the academy is not yet made up, and candidates practice daily. Becker had been enthusiastic over football, but previously was unable to seek a place on the team. He began practice early this year and worked hard to bring his play up to the standard required.

All of the candidates were practicing on the gridiron on Friday afternoon. Becker was playing guard. Scrimmage work was stopped at 4 o'clock and the coach began training his men in kicking.

F. B. Oughten, captain of the team, went to the end of the field and kicked the ball to the players.

Failed To Catch the Ball. Becker led the men in running down on the punt, but failed to catch the ball.

He started after the sphere, and, falling upon it, rolled over, bending his back toward the ground. At the same moment the man behind him stumbled and fell upon Becker. When the second man regained his feet Becker remained on the ground. He was found to be unconscious and was removed to the hospital, where Dr. A. C. Haven attended him.

Becker is 19 years old and is well advanced in his studies. His close application to his work during two years and his neglect of athletics are said to lessen his chances of recovery.

COTTON OPENED FIRM AND HIGHER

September Almost at Once Turned Higher, the Later Months Closing 4 to 11 Points Better, Slightly Below the Best.

ADVANCED NEARLY A CENT

Later Reacted and Closed 58 Points Higher, the Later Months Closing 4 to 11 Points Better, Slightly Below the Best.

New York September 28.—The cotton market opened firm at an advance of 3 points, following higher cables and covering. Almost at once September turned very active and excited. Trading in this position is at an end after noon on Wednesday, and this was considered practically the last notice day for that delivery. Some notices were said to be out, but stopped by a house representing the New Orleans bull contingent, and the New Orleans bull leader was in the ring supporting September aggressively. The result was a wild scene of shorts and the fluctuations in September were the most violent of any since the early days of the old bull campaign. Closing Saturday at 11.12, it opened this morning at 11.16, sold at 11.17, then jumped to 11.25, and from that to 12.08, set going at a strengthening effect on the general list, and while the receipts were heavy, the estimates for tomorrow's movement full, and the weather favorable, prices ruled generally firm. There were two or three reactionary periods, when an important interest seemed to be opposing the advance vigorously, but prices were forced slowly upward, and at the best showed no gains of 80/100 on the active months. Toward the close there was enough realizing to take the edge off the market, but the tone was finally steady at net gains of 4 1/2 to 11 points except September, which closed as indicated above, net 58 points higher. Sales were estimated at 400,000 bales. The initial advance was accompanied by rumors more or less vague of yellow fever in Texas and as a possible restraining influence in connection with picking and shipping. This factor was not very seriously regarded, however, and was soon lost to sight in the excitement attending the September developments. Another influence encouraging to the market was the expectation that the October report of the government, due on Saturday, would show deterioration.
